Foreword

TODAY a mighty structure of steel and concrete is being built, to bridge a furious and current-racked water. When finished, it will be the third longest suspension bridge in the world, having a length of more than a mile. Hundreds of men are engaged in this huge construction. Many months have been used and many more will be gone before it is completed. The Narrows Bridge is a structure of which our city, our state and even our country may be proud.

In Stadium now, every student is building his bridge, not a structure of steel and concrete, but a bridge of achievements and learning and progress. When completed, this bridge will span the turbulent waters of adolesence, from childhood into manhood. Twenty-three hundred Stadions are building theirs today.

So, it is with this thought in mind that we present The Tahoma for 1940.

Dear Friend -

Lots of luck and success and all that there - See you in Spain -

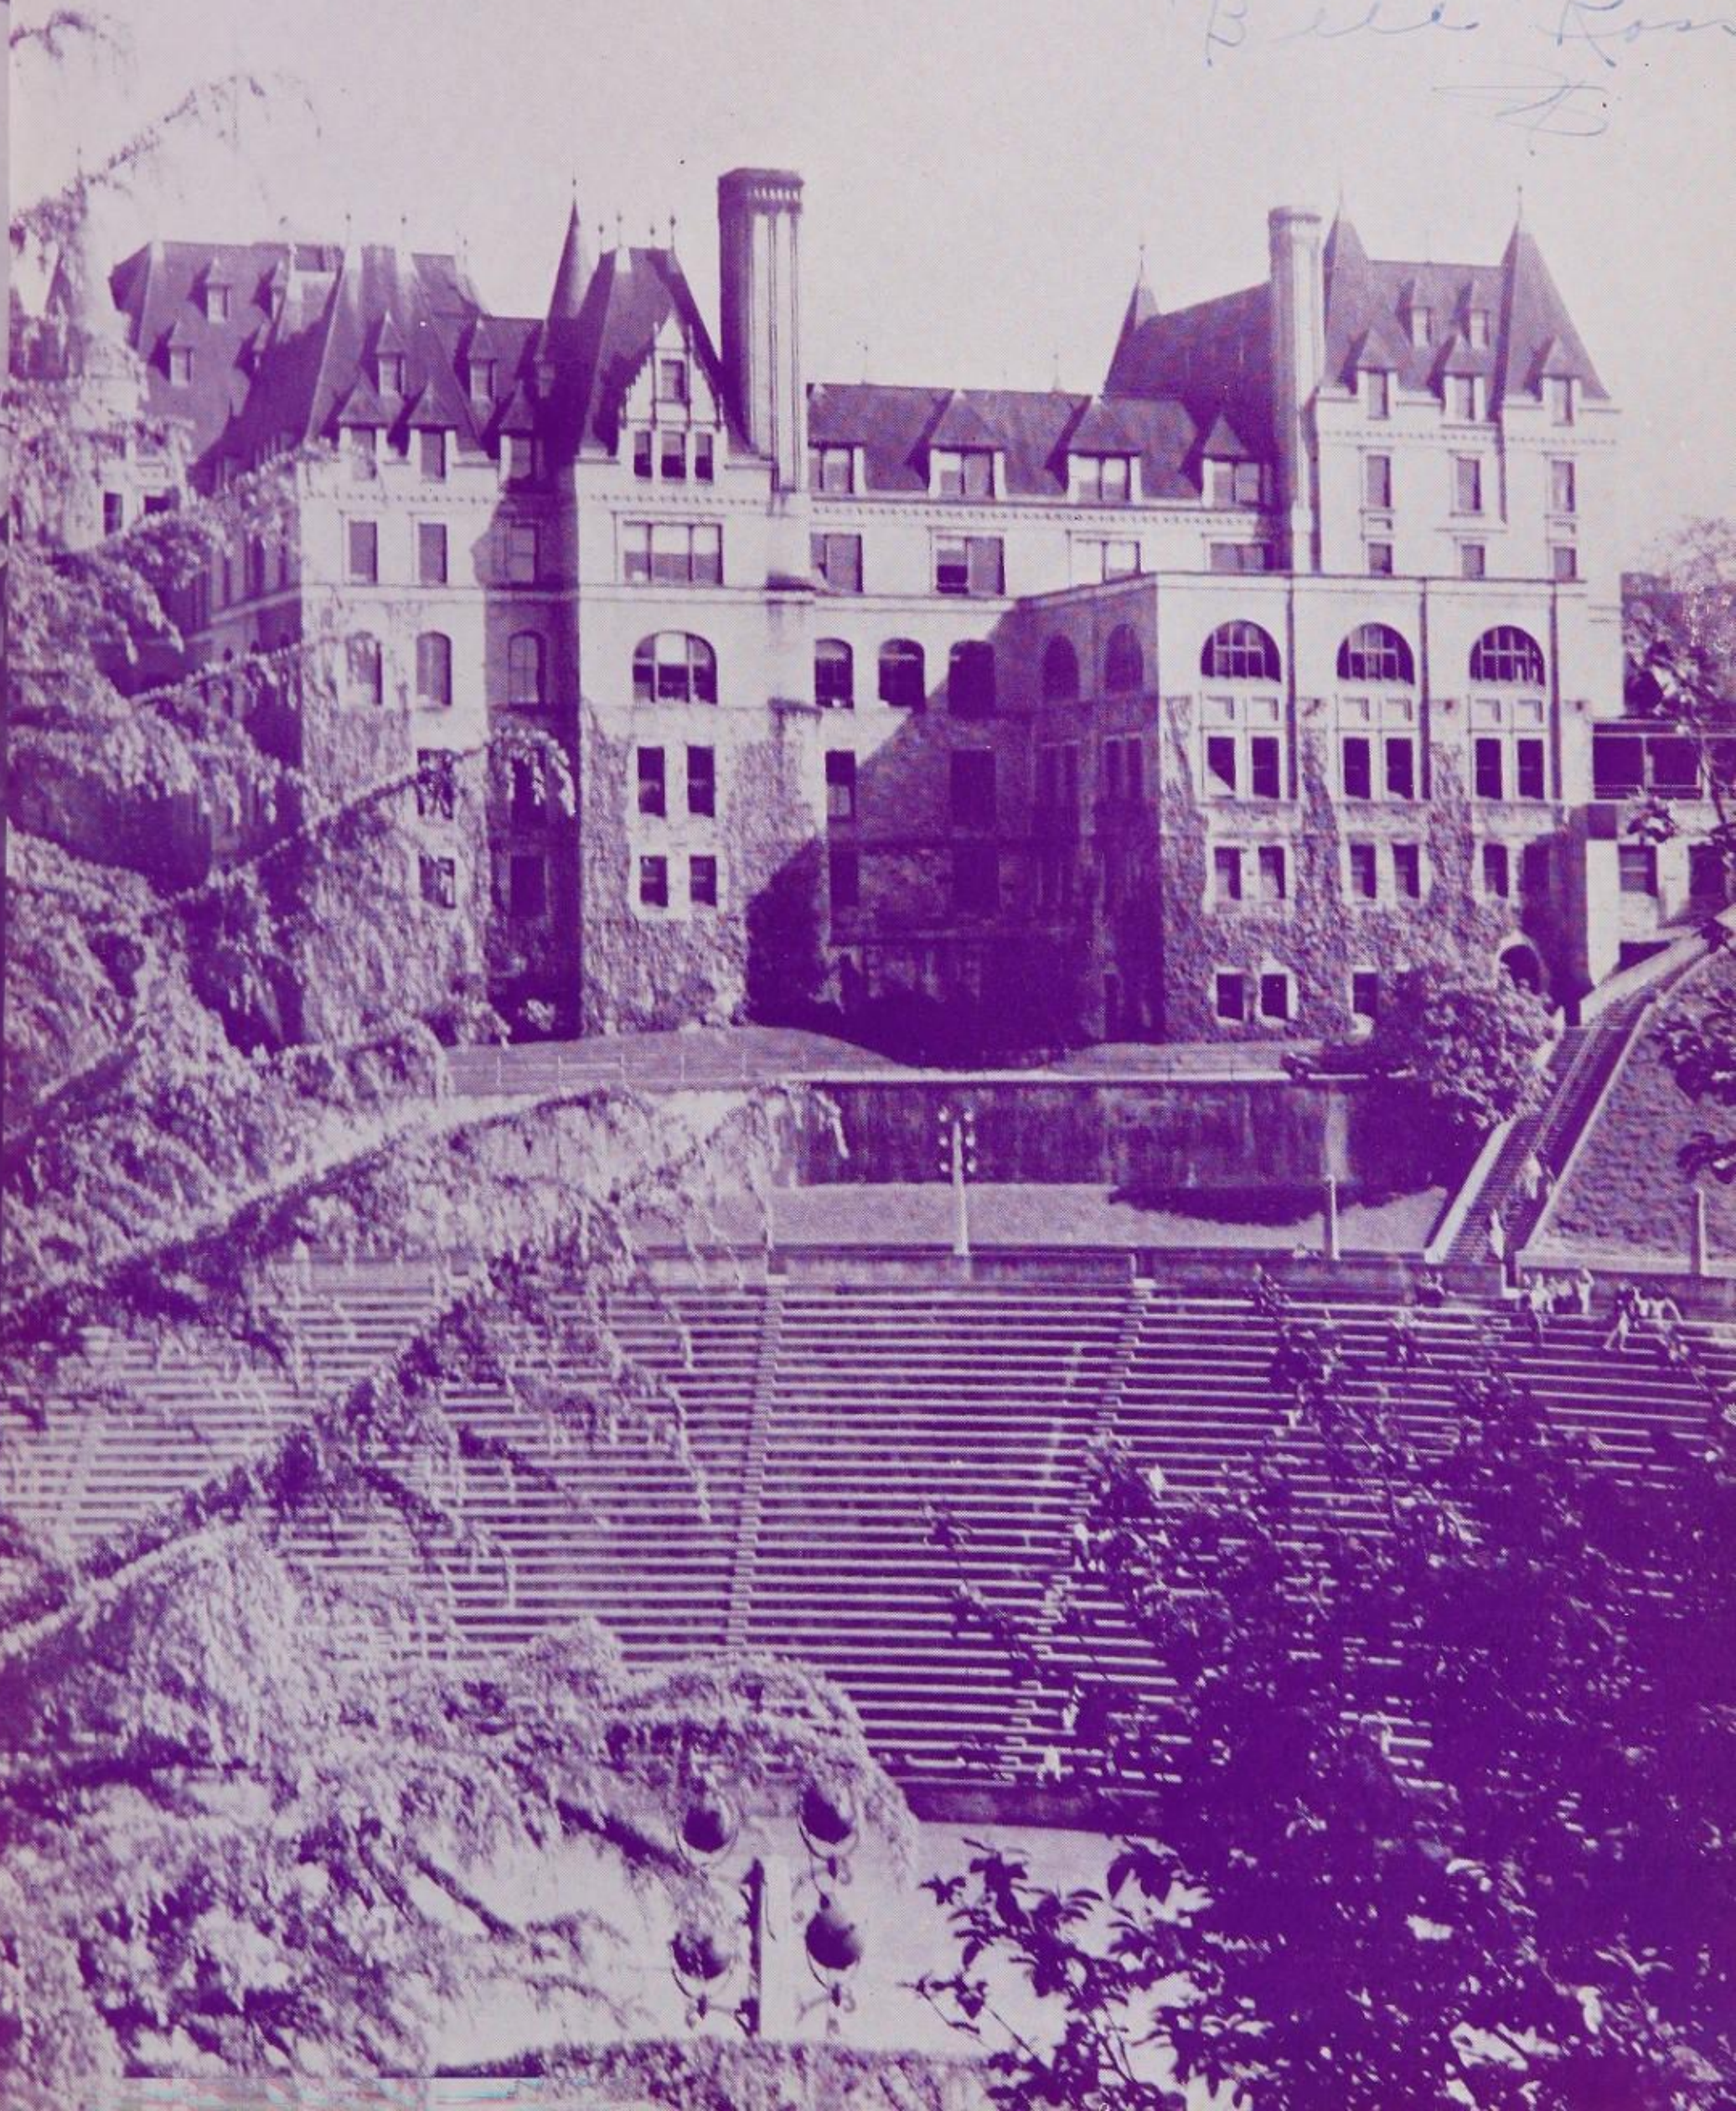
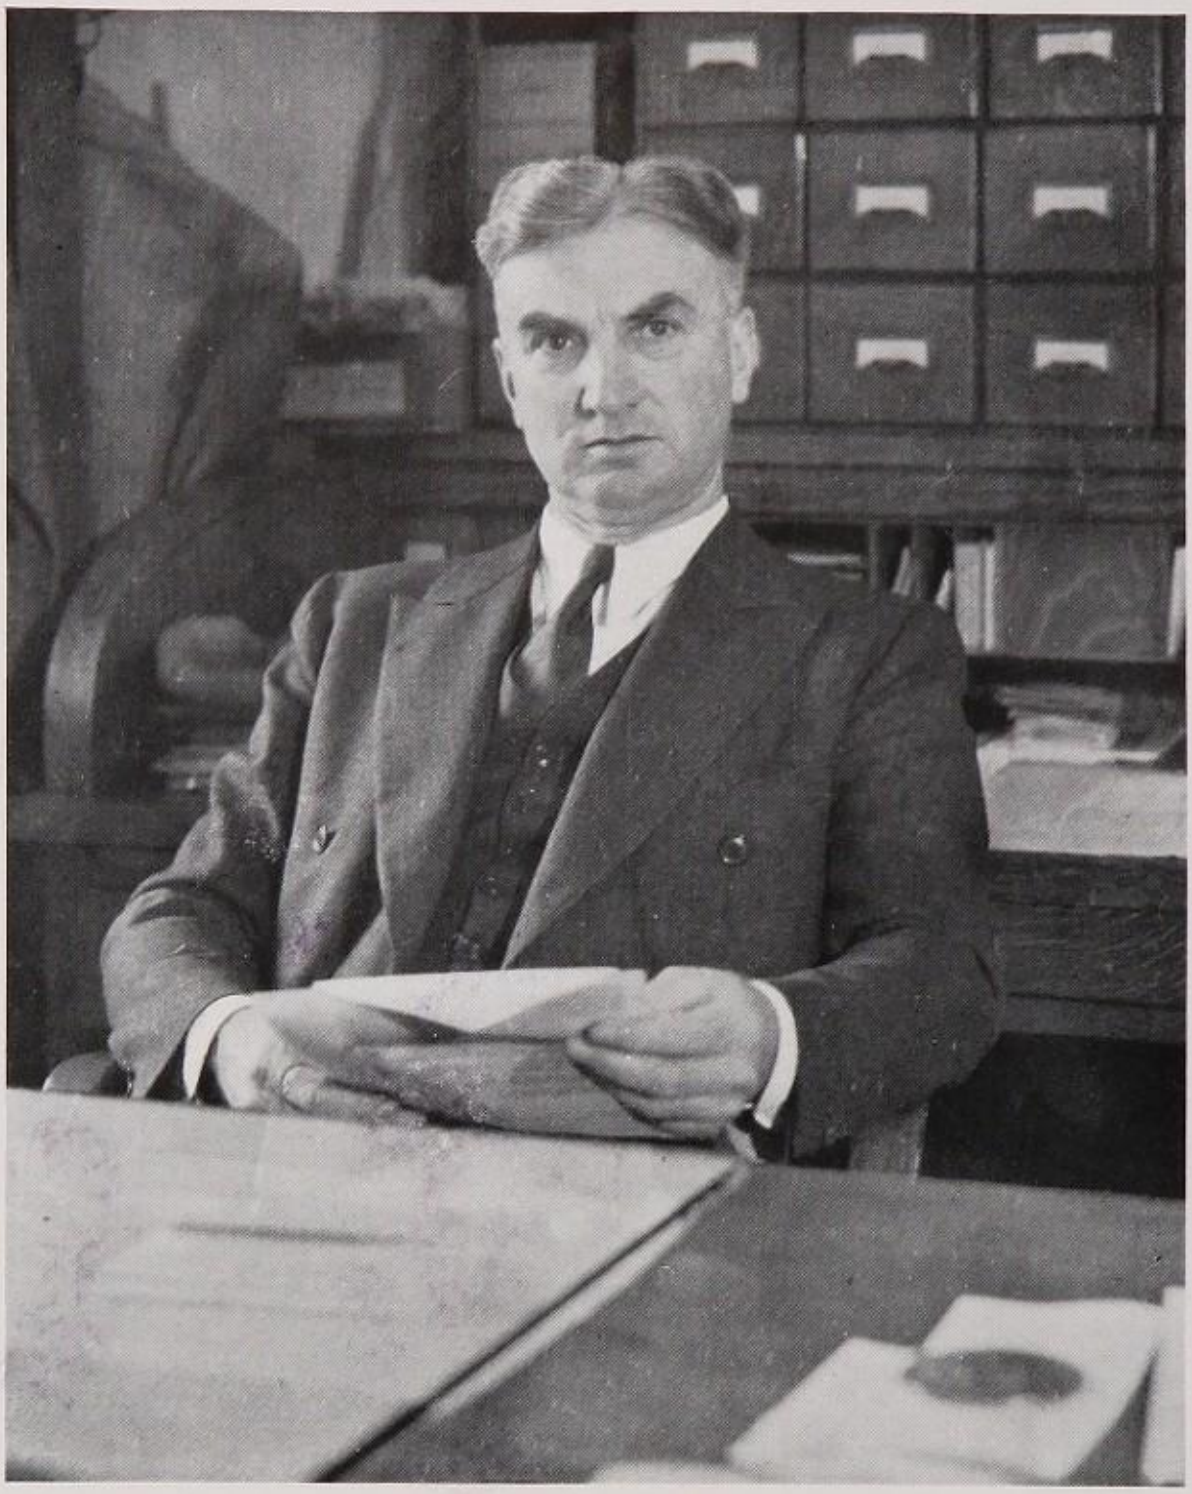
Sincerely

Bill Ross





Dedication

HE WAS A BUILDER.

These words, if any be adequate, seem best to describe Mr. Perkins. His passing from us is a loss that can never be filled. Not only did he build a bridge of life that was great and strong, but he aided many others to make theirs as fine. Perhaps these words, written by his co-workers, the faculty, will more fully express the feeling which his absence means to Stadium.

"Let us take time to remember Mr. Ernest Earl Perkins, a modest, firm and just leader; diligent and conscientious in his daily work; unshakable in his integrity; fearless in adherence to right; kind and unselfish in caring for the welfare of others. Words are inadequate to express our sense of our loss and his worth.

'Well done, thou good and faithful servant; enter thou into the joy of the Lord.'"

To Mr. Perkins, friend and counselor, leader and director—builder—we dedicate this book.

Faculty

As the engineers and foremen direct workers on the bridge, so the faculty guides students through high school; aiding them to build a bridge of knowledge that will be fine and trustworthy.

Classes

A bridge is to be built. Dig deep, Sophomores, and make a firm foundation; build straight and true, Juniors; aim high, Seniors; so that when yours is completed it will be like a pier of steel and concrete.

Bill Gough, Beverly Berlie, Marion John Klarich, Gertrude Kincaid, Noreen Johnson, Austin Fengler.

Senior Class . . .

CROSSING their bridge . . . three years of achievement, sportsmanship, fellowship . . . ending in a truly successful senior year is the record of the class of 1940.

Heading the class of 630 seniors was Marion John Klarich. Cabinet members were Bill Gough, vice president; Gertrude Kincaid, secretary; and Beverly Berlie, treasurer. Noreen Johnson and Austin Fengler were chosen as Student Council representatives.

As sophomores the class elected Dick Beckman, president; Mary Jo Reid, vice president; Jane Wetherby, secretary; Bettijane Erickson, treasurer; Ruth Taylor and Bob Wilhelmi, representatives to Student Council.

In the Junior year Dick Beckman was again chosen president. Other officers were Peggy Shaw, vice president; Jane Wetherby, secretary; Joan Bonnell, treasurer; Ruth Taylor and Frank Hicks, representatives to Student Council.

Ranking first in scholastic achievement were Shirley Nyman, valedictorian, and David Glenn, Pat Russell, Ruthi Crain, and Dorothy Selden, who tied for salutatorian.

Commencement speakers were Shirley Nyman and Dave Glenn of the honor students, Jack Pascoe, student choice and Mabel Ramey, faculty choice.

For the second time "She Stoops to Conquer" was presented as the Senior Class Play. The leading roles were double cast and the romantic leads were taken by Shirley Nyman and Gale Smith, and Barbara Phillips and Jerome Stickney.

Under the direction of Barbara Tissot and Jim Fisher the senior sweater dance, "The Dogpatch Dip" was one of the most novel and successful dances of the year. Marjorie Fox and Fred Angus were chosen as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner.

Marjorie Engelbrecht, voted by the senior girls for outstanding character as the Stadium candidate in a national D. A. R. contest was sent to Washington, D. C., where she represented this state.

Seniors with leading roles in "The Desert Song" were David Glenn, Paul Raymond, Jane Loren, Jerry Walters, Michael Gaidosh, Mel Novikoff and Margaret Repetto.

Ruth Taylor and Jack Pascoe were co-chairmen for Football Night.

Prominent in Girls' Club and school activities were Mary Jo Reid, Beverly Birdsall, Evelyn Anderson, Jean Button, Kathryn Newschwander, Peggy Shaw, Eleanor Mullins, Harriet Cline and Dorothy Herstine.

Among the boys active in sports and school activities were John Klarich, Rod Giske, Wes Hudson, Fred Angus, John Batt, Stan Morton, Matt Kapovich, Dick Beckman, Dave Glenn, Gerald Meier, Don Brown, Bud Olzendam, Bob Hayward and George Warter.

This class was the third largest to graduate from Stadium.

Senior Snaps . . .

Left: The seniors hold the first sweater dance of the year on October 27.

Below: Fred Angus and Marjorie Fox are chosen as "Li'l Abner" and "Daisy Mae" for the senior "Dogpatch" Dip," April 12.

Above: Seven seniors and coach Mr. Prentice attend the debate conference at the University of Washington on March 1.

Right: The play-reading committee chooses "She Stoops to Conquer" as the class play.

Right: Valedictorian Shirley Nyman in the center, surrounded by salutatorians Dorothy Selden, Pat Russell, Ruthi Crain and David Glenn.

Junior Class . . .

MARKING a standard of accomplishment, dependability and enthusiasm, the Class of 1941 was headed by Dick Petersen, president, assisted by Marian Mahncke, vice president; Mary Gaylord, secretary; Sherley Day, treasurer; Betty Stalwick and Virgil Walker, representatives to Student Council.

When they were sophomores, this class selected for its officers Dave Richardson, president; Sherley Day, vice president; Margaret Lindeman, secretary; Jean Sanders, treasurer; Sabine Phelps and Virgil Walker, representatives to Student Council.

This cabinet chose royal blue and silver for their class colors.

LeRoy Vaughn was selected as editor of the 1941 Tahoma and Joanne Miller as business manager. LeRoy was a cub reporter on The World during the spring.

Hundreds of twinkling, glittering stars in a deep blue sky transformed the gymnasium into a fairy-like palace for the Junior Prom. With Dick Petersen and Thora Holden as chairmen, the "Stardust Ball" was the biggest social event of the year. The class also sponsored the annual farewell-to-seniors dance.

Members of this class took part in many activities. Leigh Moody and Dick Petersen were elected co-captains of the football squad for the coming season. Others in sports and various activities were Ed Dever, Bob Angeline, Neal Lindstrom, Dave Molitor, Lyman Anderson, Jack Wilson and Bill Hopping.

For the first time in several years the school debate championship laurels were won by juniors. Grace Blangy and George Garland defeated the senior debaters to become school champions.

Having previously served as advertising manager, Betty Jean Perry was selected editor-in-chief of The World. In the fall Betty Jean was a representative to the Leaders and Journalists' Conference in Seattle.

Donna Mae Jaden and Fred Gilbertson took the leading romantic roles in the opera.

Ann Corbett held the office of treasurer of Triple S. Margaret Lindeman and Jean Cardle were active in Girls' Club work, being treasurer and service chairman, resepectively.

Other prominent juniors were Grace Blangy, Dorothy Clifford, Lois Rasmussen, Margery Nelson, Annabelle Hupe, Thora Holden and Frances Walters.

Junior Snaps . . .

Left: Lloyd Silver, Phyllis Larson, Jean Sanders and Sherman Day plan the prom as committee chairmen.

Below: Dick Petersen and Leigh Moody are selected co-captains for the 1940 football squad.

Above: Grace Blangy and George Garland win the school debate championship.

Right: Jane Elder wins The World Short-Story contest on January 12.

Right: The Junior cabinet chooses LeRoy Vaughn as 1941 Tahoma editor, and Mr. Giltner chooses Joanne Miller as business manager.

Best wishes for a happy year.
Warren King

Sophomore Class . . .

BUILDING a strong foundation for their bridge of high school achievements, the class of 1942 had a successful first year at Stadium.

Warren King led the sophomores as their first president. Other officers were Pat Powell, vice president; Janice Lindeman, secretary; James Ryan, treasurer; Mercedes Russell and Bill Richards, representatives to Student Council.

The "Ground Hog Hop", a sweater dance, proved highly successful. Sponsored by this class, Warren King and Mercedes Russell were co-chairmen.

Joe Klarich served as president of the Sophomore Boys' Club. Other Sophomore boys taking active part in sports and school affairs were Ray Hagen, Dick Hiltbrunn, Ted Gregg, Benny Blair, Jack Getaz, Parker Buck, Harry Mansfield and Jack Muckey.

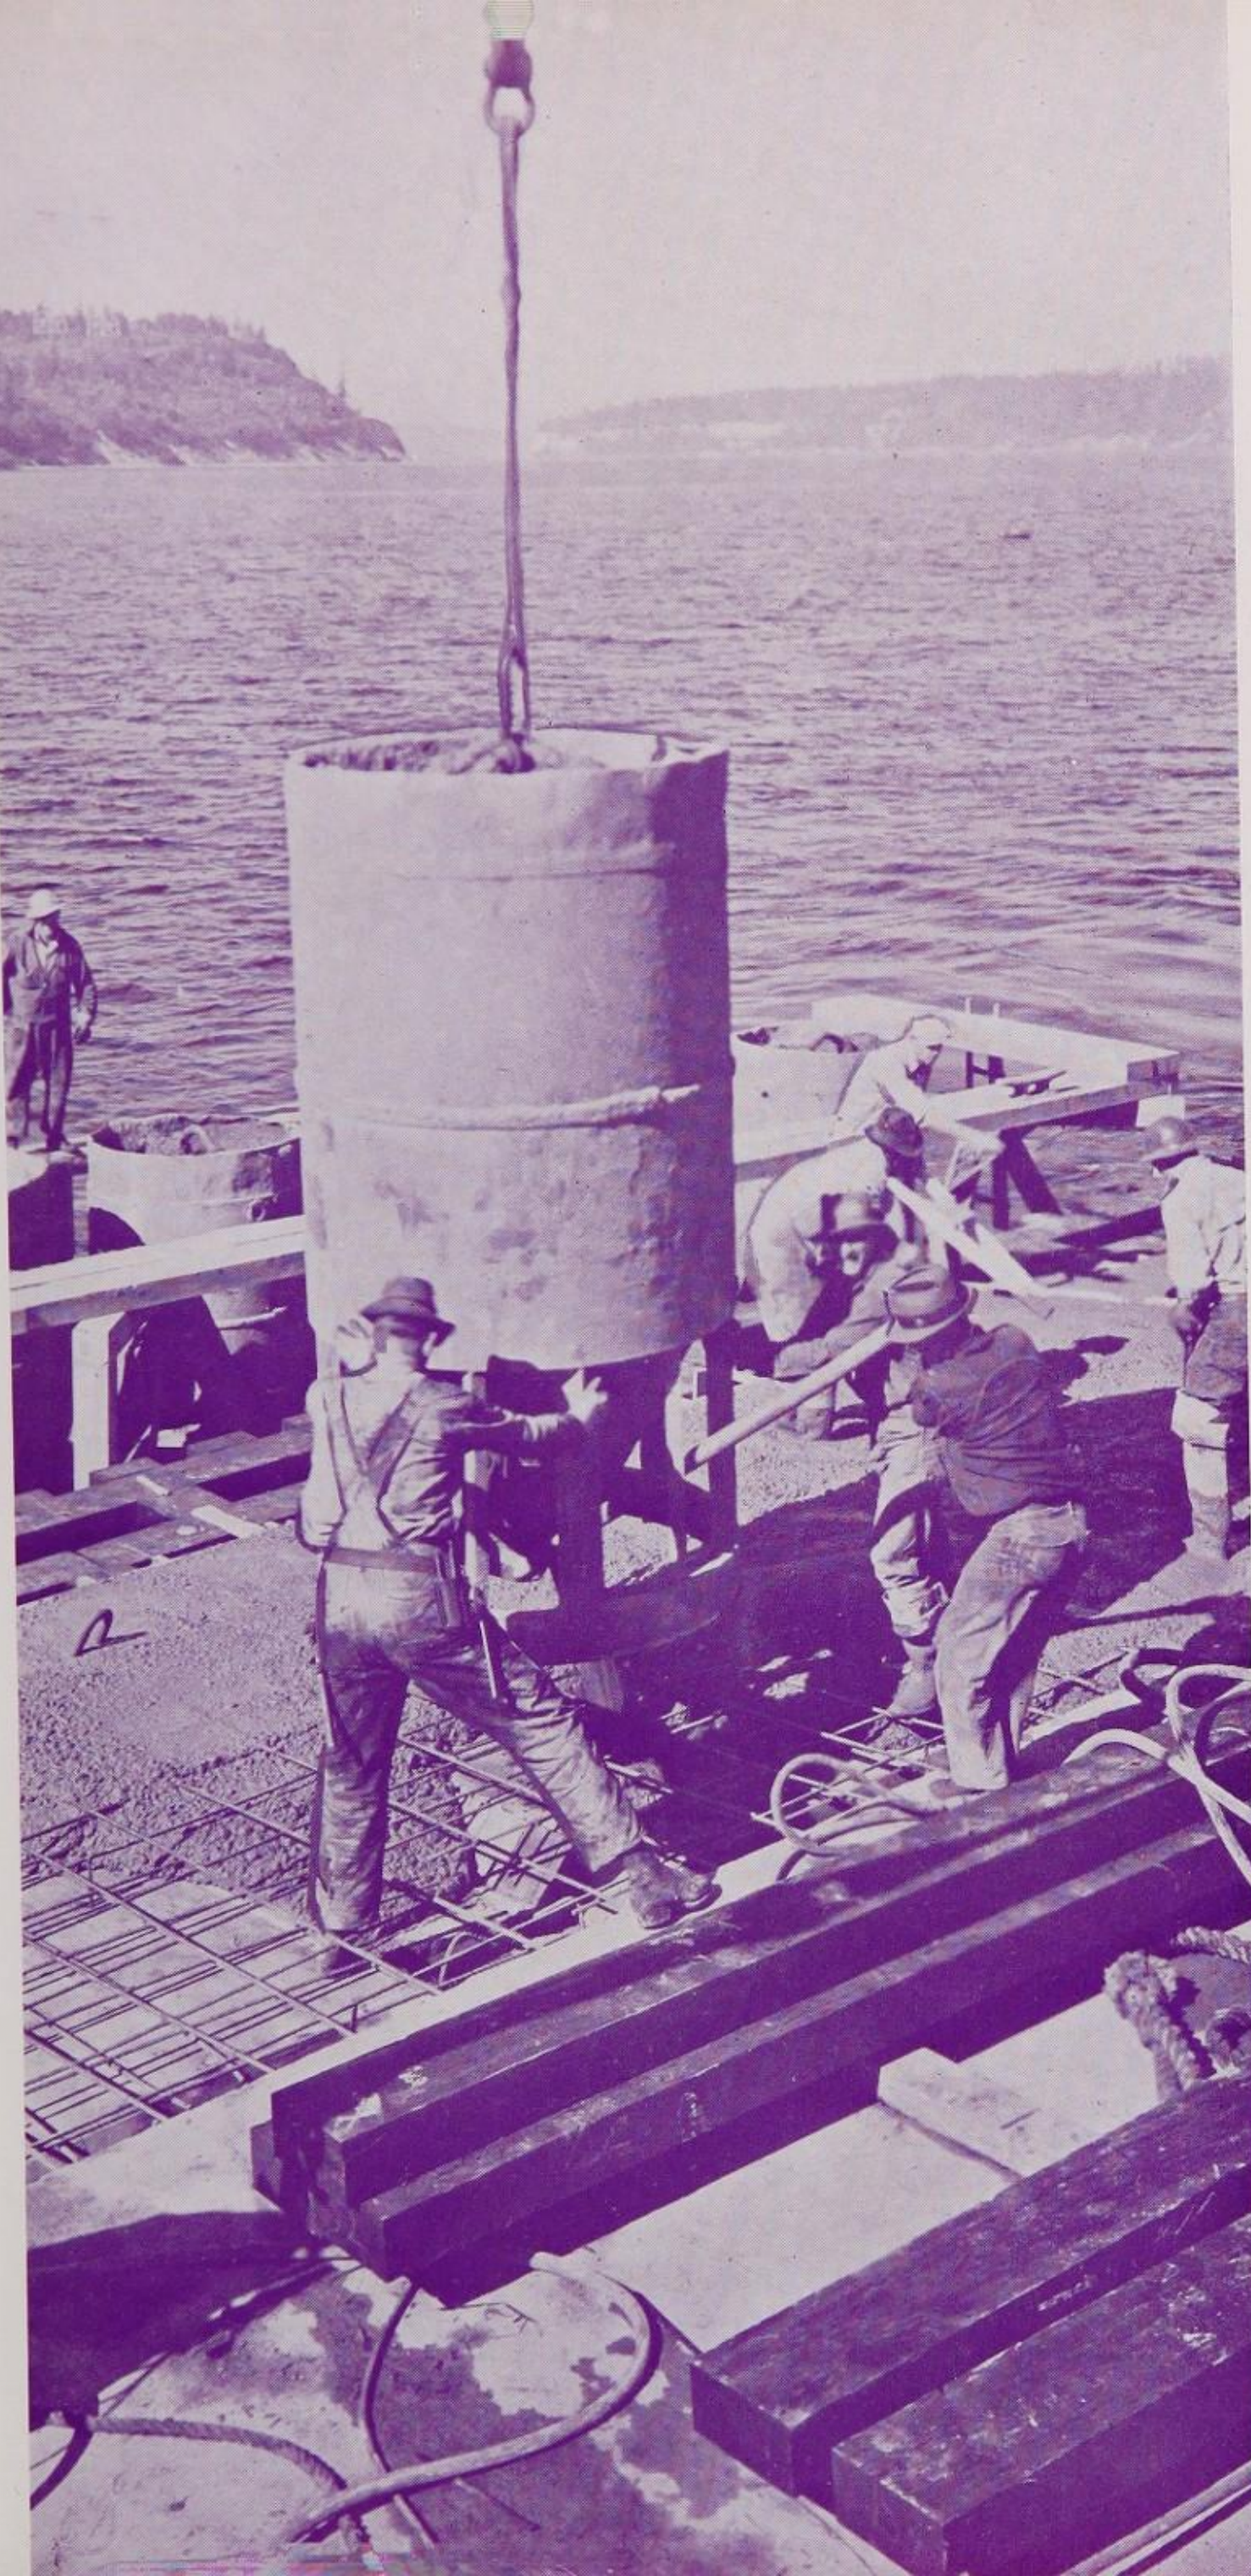
Priscilla Newschwander was the only sophomore to be a member of Triple S. Representatives to Girls' Council were Lois Peterson, Carmen Hanson and Louise Cheney. Crimson and ivory are the class colors selected by the cabinet.

The Sophomore May Dance was the last activity dance sponsored by this class.

X marks the spot. Peggy McCarthy

At the Sophomore Sweater Dance, co-chairmen Warren King and Mercedes Russell are snapped with their partners.

Sophomore May Queen was petite Mary Thomas, surrounded by Princesses Janet Harney, Dorothy Smart, Dorothy Hopping and Dena Cinelli.



Activities

No real bridge could be built without activity, whether it is the construction activity on the Narrows Bridge, or the constructive activity of many groups on the invisible bridge through high school.

Commencement Speakers . . .

THEY HAD different blueprints of the bridge . . . So, the Class of '40 built an unprecedented four-way salutatory tie instead of a valedictory deadlock as previous classes had done.

After being buried in books and papers for three years, Shirley Nyman popped up as valedictorian with Pat Russell, Dorothy Selden, Ruthi Crain and Dave Glenn sharing the salutatorian spot.

Shirley had a straight A record except for one B; the salutatorians each had all A's and three B's.

Honor . . . nervousness . . . worry . . . work . . . Plenty of this went to the four commencement speakers: Shirley, as valedictorian . . . Dave, as choice of the 10 seniors with highest scholastic records to represent the salutatorians . . . Mabel Ramey, as the faculty's choice . . . and Jack Pascoe, the student's choice.

But these seven show that education is not all study . . . The other side of their school life is well rounded . . . Shirley was extremely active in dramatic work . . . music . . . student government . . . and many organizations.

Student government . . . club activity . . . music . . . and a little athletics . . . Dave excelled in all of these.

Pat's chief interests lay in a great deal of journalism . . . debate . . . clubs. . . and student government.

Extensive participation in musical affairs was Dorothy's main activity.

Ruthi enjoyed clubs . . . athletics . . . student government . . . and journalism.

Journalism activities—from World reporter to Tahoma business manager—also took up Mabel's spare time. She was also active in club work . . . student government . . . and committees.

Jack shone in numerous clubs . . . student government . . . committees . . . and athletics.

Dear Elanor.

I hope we meet next year and can get to be better friends.

Best luck and fun always.

Pearl Fritts.

Award Winners . . .

1936 . . . A bridge of high school achievements to be crossed . . .

1939 . . . The bridge crossed in meritorious style by prominent members of the class of '39.

To Russ Soper went the twentieth awarding of the coveted Richard Graff Memorial Cup. Three years of sincere sportsmanship and good scholarship enabled Russ to have his name engraved on this traditional award presented by Dr. and Mrs. Marc W. Graff in 1919, honoring their son who died while a Stadium senior.

Outstanding womanliness and superior scholarship earned for Charlotte Ann Thompson the highest award a Stadium girl can receive—the engraving of her name on the A.A.U.W. tablet. Given to Stadium in 1920 by the Tacoma members of the American Association of University Women, this honor is annually presented by a faculty committee to the most deserving senior girl.

For his outstanding journalism activities John Braman was selected to have his name engraved on the Central Interscholastic Press Association Cup which was won by The World in 1924.

The Bausch and Lomb medal went to Harold Schweinler, who was selected by a faculty committee as the student showing through his high school record the greatest promise in scientific research.

Winner of a four year Harvard national scholarship was Maynard Miller. Demonstration of superior scholarship, character and personality won this honor for Maynard.

On the basis of high scholarship, good character and financial ability Kremlin Mladinov was awarded a four year scholarship to Columbia University.

Three valedictorians won scholarships. To Bob Elliott went the College of Puget Sound scholarship worth one-half of the tuition for four years. Betty Binns received a Stanford scholarship awarded to a freshman girl; and a Mills scholarship was granted to Helen Phill.

Offered to Stadium for the first time, scholarships to Marylhurst College were given to Charlotte Taylor and Virginia Austin.

For a winning Norwegian essay, Julius Beck received $200 from the Daughters of Norway. A Rotary award of $100 was also presented to Bob Loftness.

Dave Glenn, Bob Hayward, Peggy Shaw, Don Brown

Student Council . . .

LIKE his father, an engineer of the Narrows bridge, Dave Glenn was chief construction engineer of the body's activities this year.

Wise-cracking and capable, Dave guided Student Council in its supervising of yell leaders, clubs, athletics, assemblies and dances with a progressive leadership.

Instead of three yell leaders, the council and student body both voted for five—three boys and two girls.

Acclaimed as one of the best programs ever given at Stadium, Football Night under the title "Haunted Castle" was held. Ruth Taylor and Jack Pascoe as co-chairmen arranged the thrills and chills, with Pondo Davis as master of ceremonies.

Dave Glenn and Mary Jo Reid, delegates from Student Council and Girls' Club, respectively, and Marian Wangnild and Betty Jean Perry, of the World staff, attended the leaders' and journalists' conference at the University of Washington.

Three major student body campaigns were promoted; to buy a movie projector, to send six band and orchestra members to the Los Angeles music conference, and to halt the misuse of activity tickets.

The 40 members of Student Council arranged one of the fullest social seasons ever seen at Stadium. Appealing assemblies sparkling with such dignitaries as Rubinoff, Joseph Meier, famed Passion player, William Lord, noted mentalist, and Dr. J. O. Kennaman, archeologist, also made the auditorium ring with applause.

Officers for the year were: Dave Glenn, president; Bob Hayward, vice president; Peggy Shaw, secretary; Don Brown, treasurer, and Mr. Perkins and Mr. Carr, advisers.

Student Council Snaps . . .

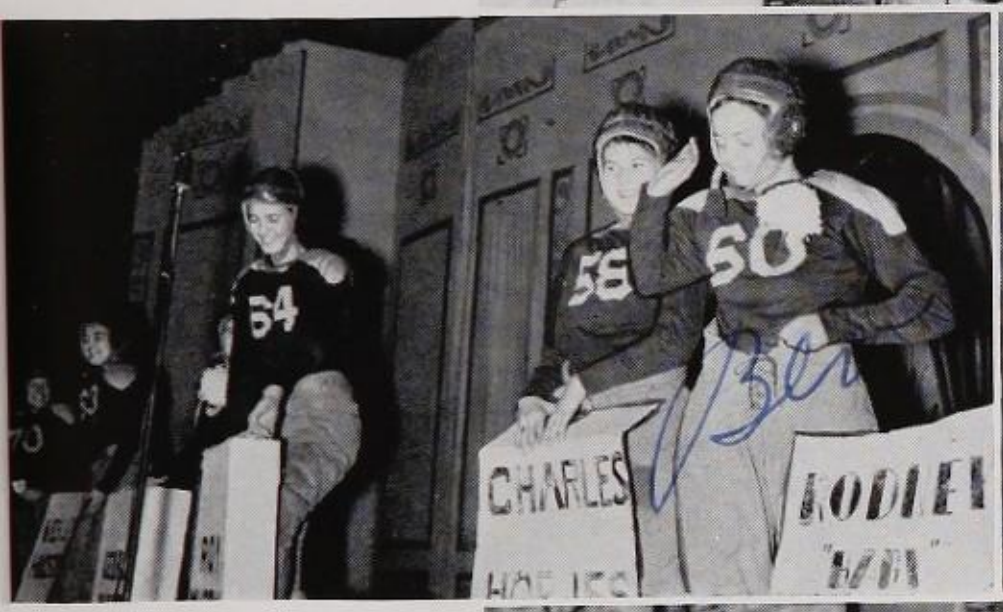
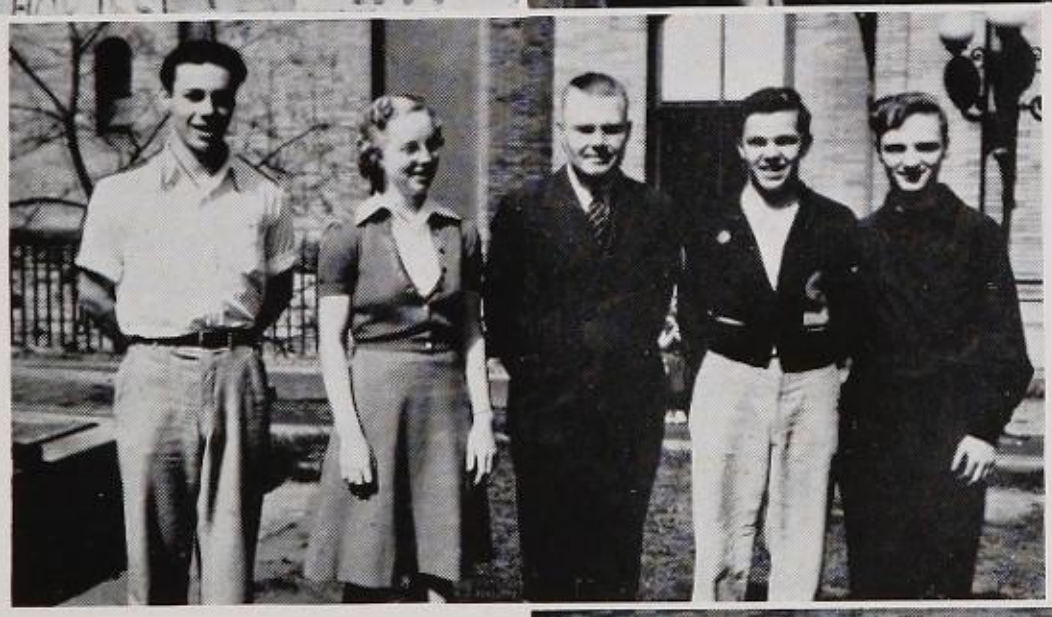
Below: Triple S gives the winning stunt on Football Night.



Above: Marian Wangnild, Dave Glenn, Mary Jo Reid and Betty Jean Perry attend the Leaders and Journalists' conference in Seattle on November 2, 3, 4.



Right: Student Council backs the drive to send Roy Long, Elizabeth Burr, Paul Davis, Bill Brock and Bill Walker to the music conference in San Francisco. Mr. Fussell accompanied them.

Right: Presidents of newly organized clubs: Ed Winskill, Pondo Davis, Florence Eves, Melvin Hansen and Stan Stowe. The clubs are World Affairs; Actors' Guild; Senior Girl Scouts; Camera and Bowling.

Eleanor Mullins, Mary Jo Reid, Jean Button, Margaret Lindeman.

Girls' Council . . .

A RAP OF THE GAVEL, a word from the President Mary Jo Reid, the roll called, the reading of the minutes by Secretary Eleanor Mullins—thus the Girls' Council meeting is declared open. Girls' Council is the governing power of the Girls' Club of which every girl in Stadium is a member.

Socially, the highlight of the year was a week of torture for the girls who took over the duties of the boys. This week was concluded by a kid dance, "Tiny Tot Trot," of which Eleanor Mullins and Doshel Allie were co-chairmen.

Several mixers were given by the social department under the guidance of Harriet Cline, department head. Lincolns' Girls' Club Cabinet was invited to attend.

Entertainment for the unfortunate in the Lakeview Sanitarium, Franke Tobey Jones Home, Childrens' Industrial Home and the Indian Hospital were furnished by the Girls' Club members under Dorothy Herstine, fellowship chairman.

Families in Tacoma have Jean Cardle and her committees to thank for their Thanksgiving dinner and their children's Christmas stockings. On these two holidays the service department sends out a plea to all students for their co-operation in making the needy families happier ones.

When Christmas rolled around the welfare department, under Kathryn Newschwander, selected a large committee of girls to decorate the halls and auditorium with greens. Little froshmore girls thanked this department for their big sisters at the beginning of each semester.

Officers were: President, Mary Jo Reid; vice-president, Jean Button; secretary, Eleanor Mullins; treasurer, Margaret Lindeman; adviser, Mrs. Magill.

Triple S . . .

THE blue and gold sweater, a symbol of "Stadium Supporting Spirit," marks those in the girls' honorary club, Triple S.

Making pompoms for the Thanksgiving Day football game and dressing dolls for the Elks' Stocking Fillers are two of the outstanding activities undertaken by Triple S every year. The traditional barn dance, this year called the "Piggy Pounce," was held with Billie Diederich and Mary McDonald as co-chairman.

Officers were: Beverly Birdsall, president; Mabel Ramey, vice president; Mary McDonald, secretary; Ann Corbett, treasurer.

Hi-Y . . .

"SERVICE" . . . That's a one-word summary of the year's activities for Hi-Y. Inaugurating a week-long "4C" campaign for the boys . . . decorating the halls for Christmas . . . giving food and clothing to the needy . . . sponsoring two "Howdy" dances at the start of each semester were typical service projects undertaken by the largest Hi-Y ever organized at Stadium.

Officers were: Dick Beckman, president; Wes Hudson, vice president; Gerald Meier, secretary; Gale Smith, treasurer; Mr. Carr and Mr. Myhrman, advisers.

Stadiana . . .

OFFICERS this year were Evelyn Anderson, president; Edith Hagberg, vice president; Gertrude Kincaid, secretary; Marjorie Engelbrecht, treasurer; Miss McCulloch, adviser.

Big S . . .

TO BECOME a member of Big S, an applicant must have received a varsity letter or a two-year minor sport letter.

Officers for the year were: Rod Giske, president; Wes Hudson, vice president; Bill Gustafson, secretary; Matt Kapovich, treasurer; Mr. Heinrick, adviser.

ROW 1: Mable Cook, Vilma Vidos, Nina Brinkerhoff, Jean Sulley, Jeanellen Calkins, Evelyn Herrmann, Dorothy Bennyhoff, Sabine Phelps, Dots Clifford, Pat Cook, Billie Diederich, Ruthi Crain, Gertrude Kincaid, Evelyn Anderson, Miss McCulloch, Marjorie Engelbrecht, Edith Hagberg, Eleanor Mullins, Ruby Lee Winther, Marilyn Blundell, Harriet Cline, Lois Schmidt, Bettie Quinn, Bettijane Erickson, Mary Frlan, Marilyn Galloway, Catherine Allison. Quill and Scroll . . .

HONORARY but large . . . Two boys but 19 girls . . . This characterizes the largest Melville E. Stone chapter of Quill and Scroll ever at Stadium.

Twelve journalists from the World staffs were initiated at two candle-light ceremonies.

"Honorable mentions" were what Stadium journalists won in the Quill and Scroll quarterly contests. Marian Wangnild received an "honorable mention" in the current-event division; Richard Meyer, in sports writing; Jane Ness for an editorial, and Sally Middleton for ad writing.

Officers were: Mabel Ramey, president; Marian Wangnild, secretary, and Mr. Hoffman, adviser.

Fourth Estate . . .

SPEAKERS and field trips . . . Members of Fourth Estate, journalism club organized in 1936, enjoyed these as their major activities.

Speaking at the meetings were Hal Nelson, Times drama editor; Leonard Coatsworth, Tribune make-up editor; Norma Hayes, an alumnus; Harry Lynch, Tribune ad director, and Walter West, Better Business Bureau head. Field trips were taken to the new Times plant.

The year's officers were: Marian Wangnild, president; Mary Elizabeth Morton, vice president; Gerald Meier, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Hoffman, adviser.

Activity Managers . . .

WITH the selling of activity tickets and stamps as their chief duty, the activity managers are chosen by roll teachers at the beginning of each semester. They also pass out World tokens each Friday and have charge of the Torch. Tuesday is the regular day on which stamps are sold.

Spring managers have charge of Tahoma distribution in their roll rooms. Students with the correct number of stamps in their activity tickets receive The World, and admission to the opera, Senior Class Play, dances and spring athletic games. At the end of the year in return for their completed activity ticket containing 30 stamps, they receive a copy of the Tahoma.

Library Assistants . . .

GIRLS AND BOYS who wish to take up library work for their vocation have the chance to start on this career within the walls of Stadium. After a semester course in library training the students are assigned to desk work where they collect library slips and check in and out various books and magazines. Miss Kobetich is librarian and instructs the 10 assistants.

This year Virginia Jentoft was the chief library assistant, serving as library typist last year. She was in the library for several periods every day.

Study Hall Assistants . . .

AT the beginning of each semester, the study hall teachers choose a group of students whose duty it is to check the roll in the study halls each day. Every period they check with the library, the gym and the absentee list before making a report of those who are absent from the study halls. This year there were 57 assistants who worked in the three study halls.

Red Cross . . .

COVERING many and varied activities during the year, the Stadium Red Cross had as co-chairmen Margaret Lindeman and Bill Hawks. The annual "Tin Can Shuffle" was sponsored by the boys of the group, and other projects included making Braille book covers for the blind, scrapbooks, Christmas favors, menu covers for Navy ships and conducting a Friendship Day.

Other officers were: Edith Hagberg, secretary; Bryce Custis, treasurer, and Miss Murray, adviser.

Attendance Clerks . . .

TO LIGHTEN the work of Mrs. Laursen, attendance clerk, about twenty-five students are selected each semester. They compile absentee lists, file excuses, mark attendance cards and collect attendance slips from class rooms.

Absentee lists are typed and mimeographed daily by students from office training classes. These lists are posted on the bulletin board by room 104 every day.

Student Nurses . . .

FROM home-nursing classes Miss Miller chooses girls each semester to serve in the Red Cross Room for about one month. Each student spends one period a day there and cares for girls who are ill or injured. To gain admittance, a girl who is ill must get a slip from her class teacher and present it to the student nurse who gives her a slip to return to class at the end of the period.

Lunchroom Crew . . .

DON AND ANNA Stadion enjoy delicious lunches each noon hour, prepared by Stadium students under the supervision of Miss Miller. The lunchroom crew serves the students during first and second lunches. For their services they receive a 20-cent lunch, which is eaten between the two lunch periods. Students in the crew are chosen from applications submitted at the beginning of the school year.

A special 15-cent lunch was inaugurated this year.

Yell Leaders . . .

ROYALTY reigned at Stadium this year in the form of five peppy yell leaders. Clinton "Spike" Ferguson as king, and Ruby Lee Winther as queen, led the clan. Ethel Gunnette, Jimmy Fisher and Pondo Davis completed the quintet as duchess and dukes respectively.

Their duty was to lead the crowd in yells to help give spirit and support to the team at all football and basketball games.

This year the student body voted to have five leaders instead of three as before, and a great job was done by the combination of their five voices in arousing the enthusiasm of the crowds.

Stage Crew . . .

JUGGLING stage equipment, scenery, making repairs on properties and handling lighting are a few of the various jobs ably performed by the stage crew. Working sixth periods and after school, members are chosen from applications submitted to Mr. Westgate, adviser.

Emblems are awarded for two semesters of work, as students doing this service receive no credit.

Special work for the year includes preparing the stage for the opera, Senior Class Play, Football Night and Christmas programs, as well as all assemblies.

Members were: Don Peterson, Rudolph Trip, Gilbert Paul, Verne Baughman, Leigh Stone, Bob Sypher and Bob Arnold.

Baseball Club . . .

MOST ACTIVE in the spring season is this organization composed of Stadium's "kings of swat," the Baseball Club. Included in its membership were many regular team members.

With Mr. Heinrick, their adviser, the boys had several prominent Tacoma players as speakers at the meetings, including Clarence Stave, City League umpire, and Jimmy Mosolf, former big leaguer.

Officers were: John Batt, president; Ray Montbroussous, vice president; Vincent Genna, secretary; George Gunnovich, treasurer.

Boat Club . . .

"ALL ASHORE that's going ashore!" Such might be the cry heard as the future skippers of Stadium met each Thursday to discuss the points of boating, sailing and ships in general. A successful voyage was had by all members under the helm of Captain Bill Hawks.

Officers of the club were: Bill Hawks, president; Anthony Kroha, vice president; Roland Richards, secretary; George Funk, treasurer, and adviser, Mr. Clark.

Christian Union . . .

AN ACTIVE group during the year was this organization, whose purpose was to promote Christian fellowship among students. Its program included selling Christmas cards, holding an exchange meeting with Lincoln and having devotions together every day during the lunch period.

Officers were: President, Vincent Bergman; vice president, Irene Bergman; secretary, Eva Peterson; treasurer, Arleen Otis; program chairman, Helen Petersen; publicity chairman, Bob Van Horn; song leaders, Evelyn Benthien, Florence Best, Florence Reynolds, Charl Knapp; pianist, Doris Beck; adviser, Miss Selden.

Debate Club . . .

STUDENTS of the forensic art make up the members of Debate Club, one of Stadium's largest and busiest organizations.

At the College of Puget Sound tournament Gerald Meier won third in extemporaneous speaking, with Pat Russell tying for fifth place. At the University of Washington tourney, Gerald Meier and Mary Elizabeth Morton won silver medals for excellent in debate.

Officers were: Gerald Meier, president; Kathryn Newschwander, vice president; Pat Russell, secretary; Grace Blangy, treasurer, and Mr. Prentice, Mr. Simpson and Mr. Albrecht, advisers and coaches.

Girls' Golf Club . . .

A CRY of "fore," and a flash of skirts on the green signify members of the Girls' Golf Club, who have a chance to show their talent in the annual spring tournament, the reward for the winner being a perpetual trophy.

During club meetings the girls practice under the professional eye of Ray Ball, golf instructor.

Officers were: President, Pat Mills; vice president, Jeanellen Calkins; secretary Doris Hazelton; treasurer, Reba Langton; sergeant-at-arms, Helen Gallwas, and adviser, Miss Bernard.

Boys' Golf Club . . .

THOSE boys swinging a mean driver or mashie are here introduced to the Boys' Golf Club. America's future Bobby Jones might well come from within its membership, for the boys practice at local courses and receive instructions from experts in the sport. Tournaments are held in the spring for all students interested.

Officers were: Bommie Van De Mark, president; Rod Olzendam, vice president; George Coombs, secretary-treasurer.

Fishermens' Club . . .

IF YOU TAKE to water like a duck, or maybe a fish, Fishermens' Club is the club for you, for all the anglers in Stadium belong to this active organization.

Prominent experts on the sport of fishing spoke at almost every meeting, and in the spring fresh and salt water derbies were held, with a picnic ending the year.

Officers were: Earl Moore, president; Thornton Mock, vice president; Wiley Mellish, secretary; Arnold Hansen, treasurer, and adviser, Mr. Palmer.

International Club . . .

FRIENDS in China, Germany, Italy, Nova Scotia—how interesting it sounds! That is just part of the fun which members of the International Club had during the year. Through the club they corresponded with students in foreign lands, and many of them gained real friends.

Guest speakers appeared at almost every meeting. Among the most interesting were Mrs. Eugene White, speaking on the Philippines; Miss Lindaas, telling of her South American trip, and Charles Heflinger, talking about Germany.

Officers were: President, Catherine Luzzi; vice president, Dorothy Samuelson; secretary, Betty Lou Sugg; treasurer, Anna Laura Hordge; program chairman, Nina Brinkerhoff, publicity chairman, Marigene Lee; adviser, Miss Hartman.

Magic Club . . .

THE HAND is quicker than the eye. The truth of this statement can well be displayed by the members of the Magic Club.

Giving performances at the Bank of California and for the Corinthian Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star were some of the outstanding activities of this club. Several guests performed for members at the club meetings.

Fall officers were: Bob Robertson, president; Bill Gough, vice president; Bob Kelly, secretary-treasurer. Spring officers were: Jim Carpenter, president; Bob Kelly, vice president; Donna Johnson, secretary, and adviser, Mrs. Graham.

Movie Club . . .

"CUT! Let 'em roll! Action! Camera!" These and many such fitting quotations describe the varied activities of the Movie Club. Discussing the latest motion pictures and displaying a billboard in the library of the newest first-run films in Tacoma were some of the functions carried on by the members. Other programs of the year featured speakers and movie reviews.

Officers were: Beverly Berlie, president; Margaret Repetto, vice president; Lois Myers, secretary; Barbara Tissot, treasurer; and adviser, Miss Fenenga.

Norwegian Club . . .

STUDYING the Norwegian language and literature with its gay music and customs was the purpose of this active group, formed only last year.

The annual Norwegian spelling bee was held in the fall with Lincoln, the latter again being victorious.

Fall officers were: President, Byron Larsen; vice-president, Shirley Stone; secretary, Helen Stang; treasurer, Maurice Christopherson.

Spring officers were: President, Laura Midstater; vice president, Sylvia Reitan; secretary, Fred Adams; treasurer, Carsten Johnsen, and adviser, Miss Farden.

Club Nous Autres . . .

TO HELP inform students about the habits and customs of the French people and to create an interest in their language has been the aim of Club Nous Autres during the year.

Many outside speakers addressed the club, telling of their travels through France and the French colonies.

Officers were: President, Barbara Tissot; vice president, Phyllis Everson; secretary-treasurer, Beverly Berlie; program chairman, Lettie Lowry; adviser, Mr. Cousin.

Rifle Club and Team

CRACK-SHOT Castlelites can be found at the bi-weekly meetings of the Rifle Club in the girls' gym.

The instructor was Sergeant Frank Gates.

The president, Ray Tobin, distinguished himself by shooting two "possibles" in the bi-weekly matches.

Meetings are held on Monday and Wednesday evenings, Friday afternoons and Saturday mornings.

Officers were: President, Raymond Tobin; vice-president, Bill Causin; treasurer, Michael Gaidosh; secretary, Barbara Tobin; publicity manager, Louis Fowler; adviser, Mr. Giltner.

Sculpture Club . . .

WITH an exhibit at the Western Washington Fair as a major project, the Sculpture Club had a very interesting and successful year. Members participated in exhibits and hobby shows, taking several top honors and other prizes.

The group was instructed by Karl Evers, from Bryant creative arts studios, every Monday after school. On the first and third Mondays of each month business meeting were held before instruction.

Officers were: President, Bob Baldwin; secretary, Dot Cochran; treasurer, Cliff Bach, and adviser, Mr. Evers.

Speakers' Bureau . . .

KEEPING Don and Anna Stadion up on the social activities of the school is the job of the information bureau of the Brown Castle, Speakers' Bureau. Meeting every Friday to receive announcements, members give them on the following Mondays in the roll rooms. Announcements are put in the office box on Thursday or given to Miss Wortman.

Sahasa . . .

SAHASA, the Girl Reserve Club of Stadium, has become bigger and better this year under its capable president, Bette Siegle.

The annual three day convention was held at Bellingham, its theme being "World Fellowship." Several Sahasa girls were selected to attend.

Highlights of the social whirl were two tolo dances, one being a sport dance, followed by a spring formal.

Officers were: President, Bette Siegle; vice president, Ruth Taylor; secretary, Margaret Ryan; treasurer, Edith Hagberg; adviser from Stadium, Miss Wortman.

Sophomore Boys' Club . . .

TO ASSIST sophomore boys in becoming acquainted with Stadium activities and upperclassmen, the Sophomore Boys' Club was organized with the help of Hi-Y, its sponsor. The mixer held last year was discontinued this year.

Officers for the year were: Joe Klarich, president; Benny Blair, vice president; Jimmie Reynolds, secretary-treasurer, and adviser, Mr. Lowman.

Ski Club . . .

STUDENTS whose one ambition is to don the hickory slabs and go sailing down the mountain side may have their ambition fulfilled by belonging to the Ski Club. Busses are chartered to carry the ski lovers to their "Paradise."

Officers were: President, Jack Pascoe; vice president, Bill Hopping; secretary, Marian Mahncke; treasurer, Terry Donoghue, and adviser, Mr. Albrecht.

Stamp Club . . .

WITH the annual stamp exhibit, held on the nights of the Senior Class Play as the highlight of its activities, the club had an interesting year. Stamps were studied and exchanged by members at the weekly meetings. Among the guest speakers was Mr. Murray Morgan, who told of his canoe trip down the Danube and the stamps he collected while in Europe.

Spring officers were: President, Richard Weeks; vice president, Al Danielson; secretary, Helen Hembroff; treasurer, Bob Van Horn; publicity, Jim Slayden; membership, Winifred Conrad; refreshments, Gerald Vendetti; program, Gerald Pirret; adviser, Mr. Kennard.

Science Club . . .

WITH a flask in one hand and a test tube in the other, the scientist steps into the picture. He is a member of the Stadium Science Club, one of the newer clubs in Stadium.

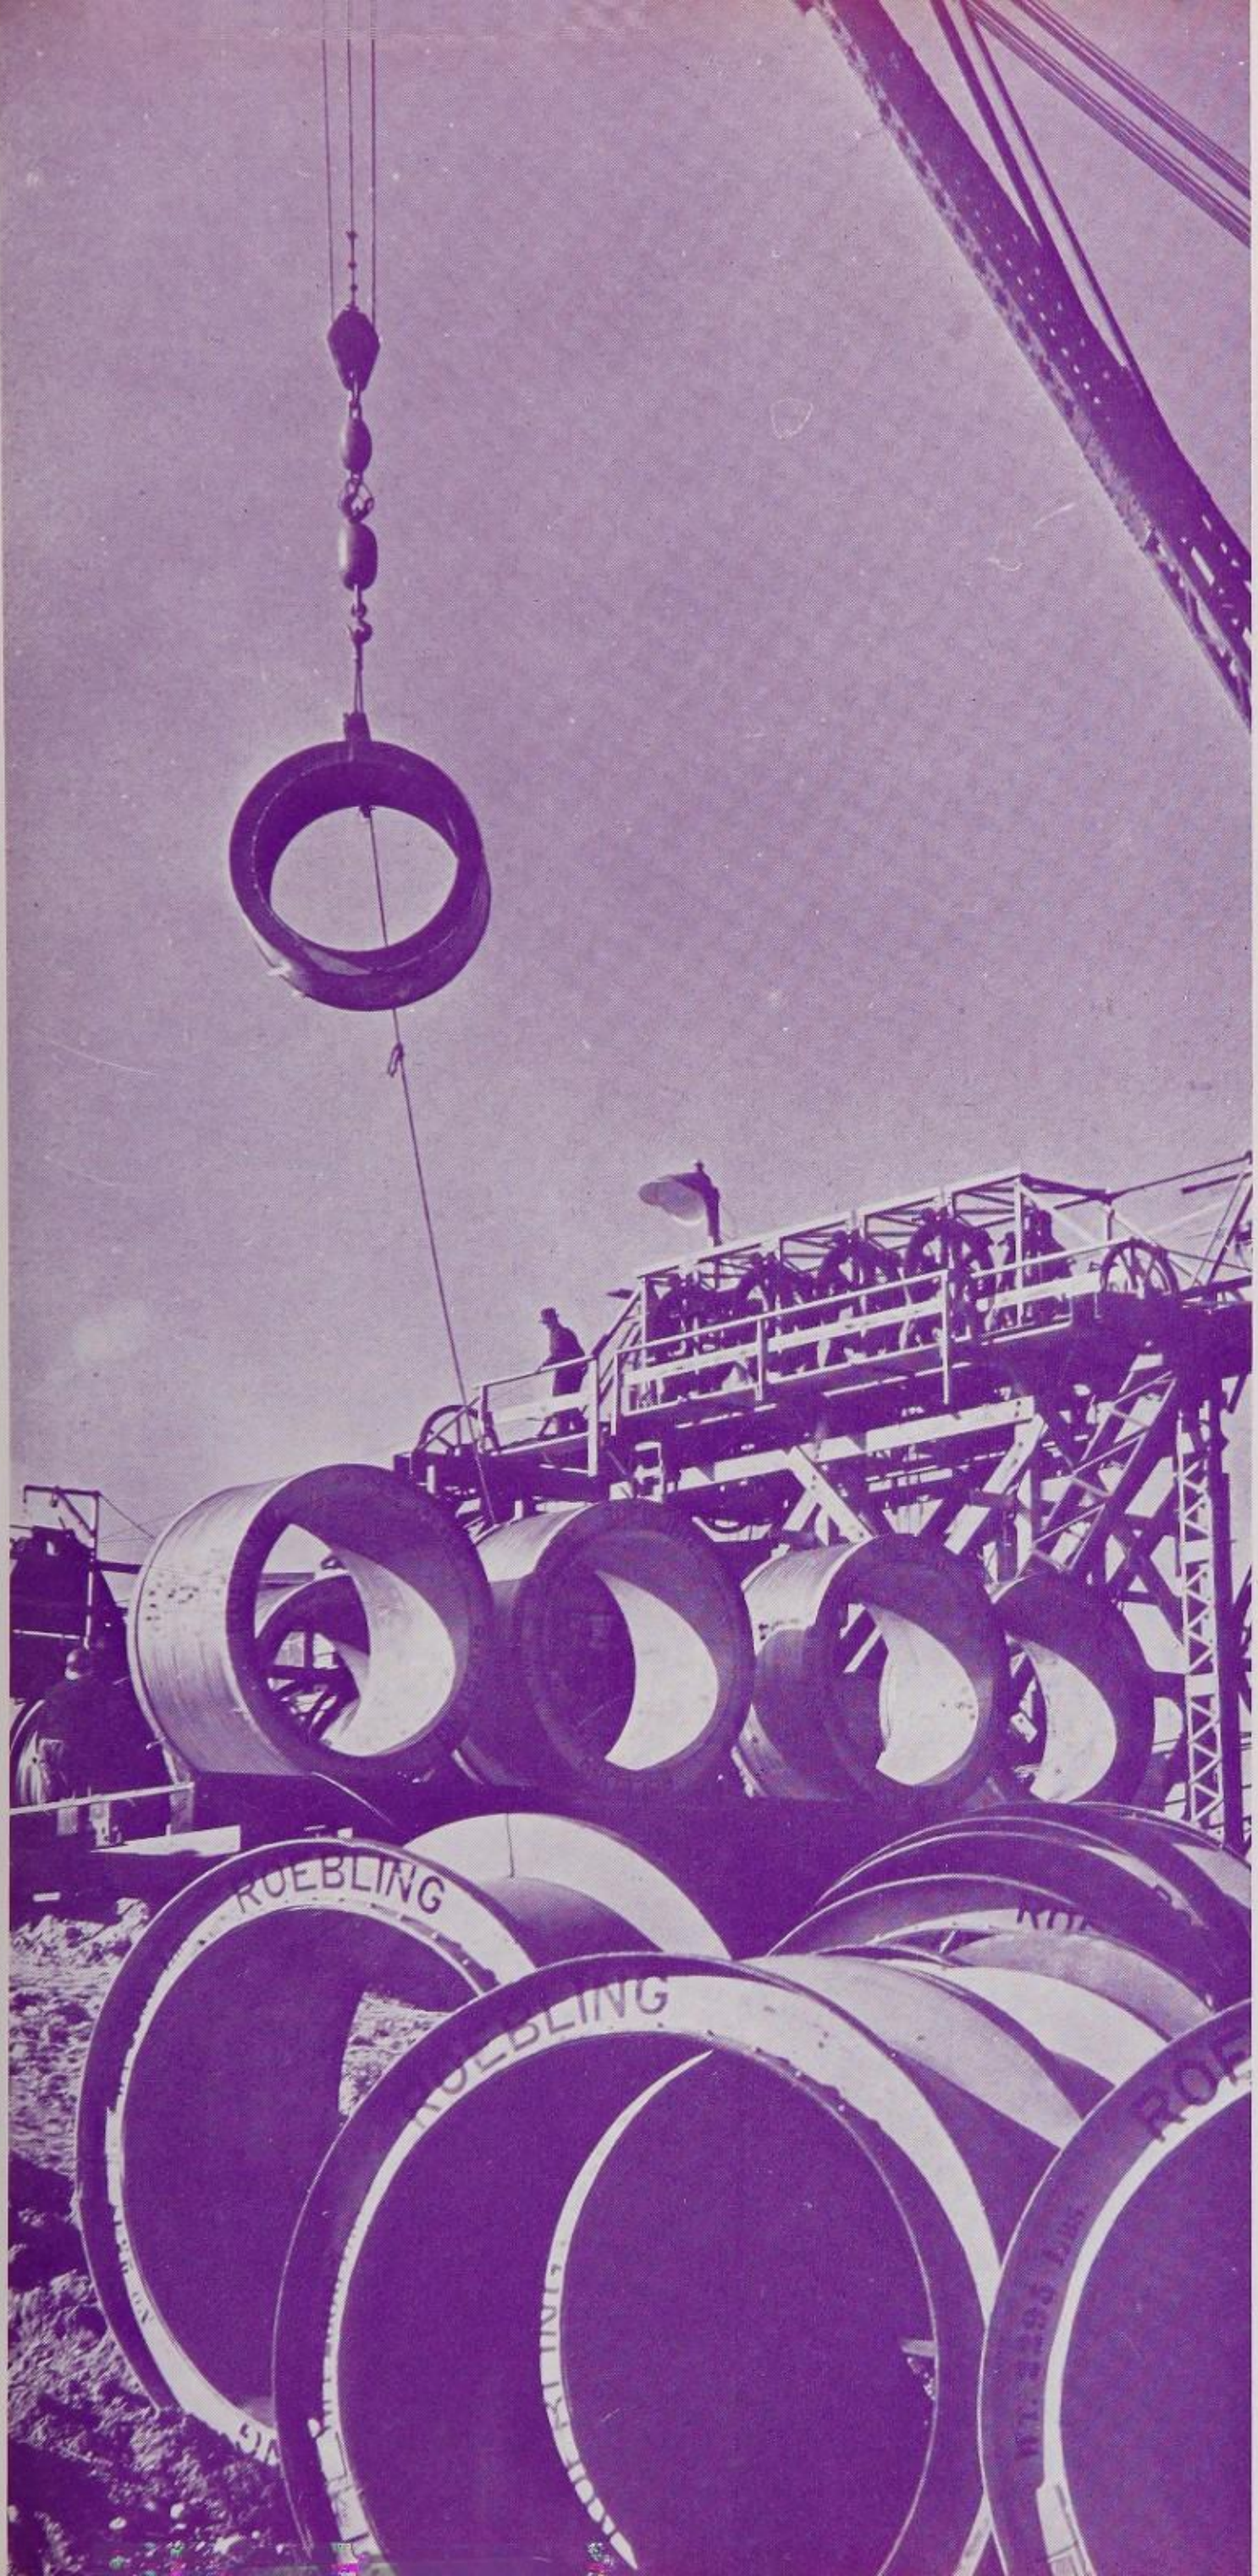
Speakers featured on the programs were Mr. William Hawks, on the gas industry; Professor Frederick McMillan of the College of Puget Sound, on earthquakes; Mr. Henry Foss, with colored movies of the Narrows Bridge, and the Weyerhaeuser film, "Trees and Men."

Officers were: Paul Raymond, president; Bill Gough, vice president; Bob Robertson, secretary-treasurer.

Vocational Club . . .

WITH field trips, guest speakers and a holiday party topping its list of activities, the Stadium Vocational Club had a successful year in aiding students to choose their careers. A point system was established by which members earned pins. For the first time since its existence, boys were allowed to join.

Officers were: President, Marijane Stumf; vice president, Mary Frlan; secretary, Jennie Bernobich; treasurer, Catherine Baron; librarian, Rhoda Claassen; reporter, Francis Rosengren; adviser, Mr. Epstein.



Music Drama

There is music and drama in the building of a bridge, when great tons of steel are to be lifted and swung into place, and in silhouettes of men and machines against a dusky sky.

MR. JOHNSON

Operetta . . .

SAILING PROUDLY into the harbor of the past to moor alongside the 27 annual musical productions was Sigmund Romberg's operetta, "The Desert Song," which was held March 28, 29 and 30 in the Stadium auditorium. Under Mr. Johnson's direction, it cast a more impressive reflection than it did when produced in 1933.

Desert caves in the middle of northern Africa, Arabian harems and legionnaires' mansions constituted the scenery of this colorful production. The yarn was unwound when the dashing Red Shadow or Pierre, a dual role played by Fred Gilbertson, finally captivated the heart of the beautiful Margot Bonvalet who was charmingly portrayed by Donna Mae Jaden.

Admirable assistance was given the leads by Evelyn Benthien, Paul Raymond, Margaret Repetto, Jane Loren and Jerry Walters. As the flirtatious Spanish lady, Clementina, Evelyn's melodious voice was awarded much acclamation. Paul Fontaine, captain of the French Foreign Legion and also Margot's fiancee, was excellently characterized by Paul, while the role of his affectionate admirer, the exotic Oriental dancer, Azuri, was well portrayed by Margaret. The ever-jocular Jane and Jerry shared the comedy honors—Jane winning fame in her portrayal of Susan, the persistent and scatter-brained sweetheart of the comical hip-wiggling and eye-rolling newspaperman, Benjamin Kidd, Jerry's show-stealing part.

Characters which held the limelight within the Arabian tribe were vividly presented by Bob Mulligan as the Arab chief, Ali Ben Ali; Michael Gaidosh and Marshall Cook as the Riff chieftans, Sid El Karr and Hasi; Mel Novikoff as Mindar; Alec Daly and Rhoda Sussman as the Riff farmer, Hadji, and his wife, Neri; Gale Smith as the sentinel, and Jack Tuell as Nogi.

Outstanding figures in the French Foreign Legion were General Birabeau, commandant, played by David Glenn; Lieutenant La Vergne, played by George Cunningham, and Seargeant deBoussac, played by James Ledlie.

Members of the special chorus included Muriel Berglund, Jennie Bernobich, Marilyn Blundell, Harriet Cline, Virginia Cummings, Barbara Ferris, Lila Lee Gordon, Betty Heidinger, Margaret Hunt, Josephine Lindgren, Gwen Lobdell, Kathryn McDonald, Ruth Michael, Jane Ness, Priscilla Newschwander, Beth Nicolson, Viola Nilsen, Madeline Paulsen, Barbara Robson, Genevieve Shaw and Clarabel Stevens.

The six artistic dances which added greatly to the opera's success were originated by Helen Martin, Dorothy Philby and Margaret Repetto.

Credit for a smooth and successful performance should be given to the group of student personnel directors behind the scenes. They were: Grace Blangy, Jeanne Bourland, Jean Cardle, Felicie Dahl, Jane Elder, Carol Gardner, Martha Hart, Marijane Keller, Janice Lindeman, Margaret Lindeman, Kathryn Newschwander, Goldie Phill, Barbara Phillips, Corinne Picard, Catherine Prentice and Ruth Webb.

Boys' Glee Club . . .

BLENDED male voices sent forth melodious messages in the opera "The Desert Song." Under the direction of Mr. Johnson, the Boys' Glee Club offered an opportunity for any boy with musical talent to gain experience and training. Officers for the year were: President, Ray Ryan; vice president, Bob Robertson; secretary-treasurer, Michael Gaidosh.

Girls' Glee Club

TRUE to its name, the Girls' Senior Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Johnson filled many hearts with glee—not only as a colorful opera chorus in "The Desert Song," but also in its appearances before radio audiences, junior high school groups, members of downtown clubs and students in assemblies.

Officers for the year were: President, Evelyn Benthien; vice president, Carol Gardner; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Cummings.

Orchestra . . .

BUILDING excellent orchestral arrangements on the school year's cable of musical entertainment was the accomplishment of the orchestra under Mr. Johnson's supervision. The group appeared in various assemblies, before service clubs and junior high schools, and furnished talent for programs and assemblies.

Officers for the year were: President, Dorothy Isaacs; vice president, Dorothy Selden; secretary-treasurer, Don Ferris.

Solo Orchestra . . .

SENTENCED to months of hard pre-opera labor behind musical bars, the solo orchestra under Mr. Johnson contributed greatly to the success of "The Desert Song." The group was selected from the full orchestra for their dependability, playing ability and experience, to accompany the soloists and dances. They also toured with the cast to junior high schools and business clubs, presenting scenes of the opera.

Tigerannas . . .

TO ADD COLOR, spirit and perhaps a little "oomph" at football games, the girls' marching unit, the Tigerannas, performed during the half with clever marching stunts.

The officers of this snappy unit were: President, Harriet Anderson; secretary, Kathleen Dustan; treasurer, Beverly Berlie; advisers, Miss Lea and Miss Fenenga.

New officers are: President, Martha Hart; secretary, Mary Lou Fulton; treasurer, Ethel Bonham.

Band and Drum Majoresses . . .

TRANSLATING lifeless blank ink spots into those peppy bars of music that were chock full of school spirit, was the year's assignment for the band under Mr. Fussell.

Officers of the board of control were: President, Roy Long; secretary, Jean Wheeler; librarian, Dorothy Clifford.

Eight high-stepping drum majoresses, clad in white and blue satin uniforms and led by Billie Jean Diederich and Peggy Shaw, accompanied the group.

Thespians . . .

LAUGHTER and tears were the effects on the audiences of this year's cable of dramatic performances. During 1939-40, 19 plays, including a matinee, were presented. Climaxing the matinee was a brief skit, "Vengeance," taken from Dickens' "Oliver Twist." The cast portrayed the typical underworld characters in such an excellent manner that they received numerous complimentary comments.

Those Thespians who received their service pins before the presentation of "She Stoops to Conquer," are: Felicie Dahl, Helen Hedges, Charl Knapp, Josephine Lindgren, Evelyn Marshall, Gloria Mierow, Shirley Troupe, Dolly Waite and June Ward.

Officers of the club were: President, Shirley Nyman; vice president, Bob Kelly; secretary, Grace Blangy; treasurer, Charl Knapp.

National Thespians . . .

ACTIVE interest and meritorious work enable the student who is plowing his way through the field of drama to reach the covetous goal—that of membership in the National Thespian Society.

For their outstanding work in the Christmas play and matinee, twelve gained admittance into the club. They include Bob Albertson, Grace Blangy, Jane Elder, Virginia Garver, Bob Heath, Bob Kelly, Jackie Lanham, Barbara Phillips, Gale Smith, Jack Sundquist, Gerald Sustad and Richard Weeks.

Since Shirley Nyman was the only member who remained from the preceding year, she automatically held all offices until mid-semester. At that time Bob Kelly was elected president; Barbara Phillips, vice president; Gerald Sustad, secretary, and Gale Smith, treasurer.

Senior Class Play . . .

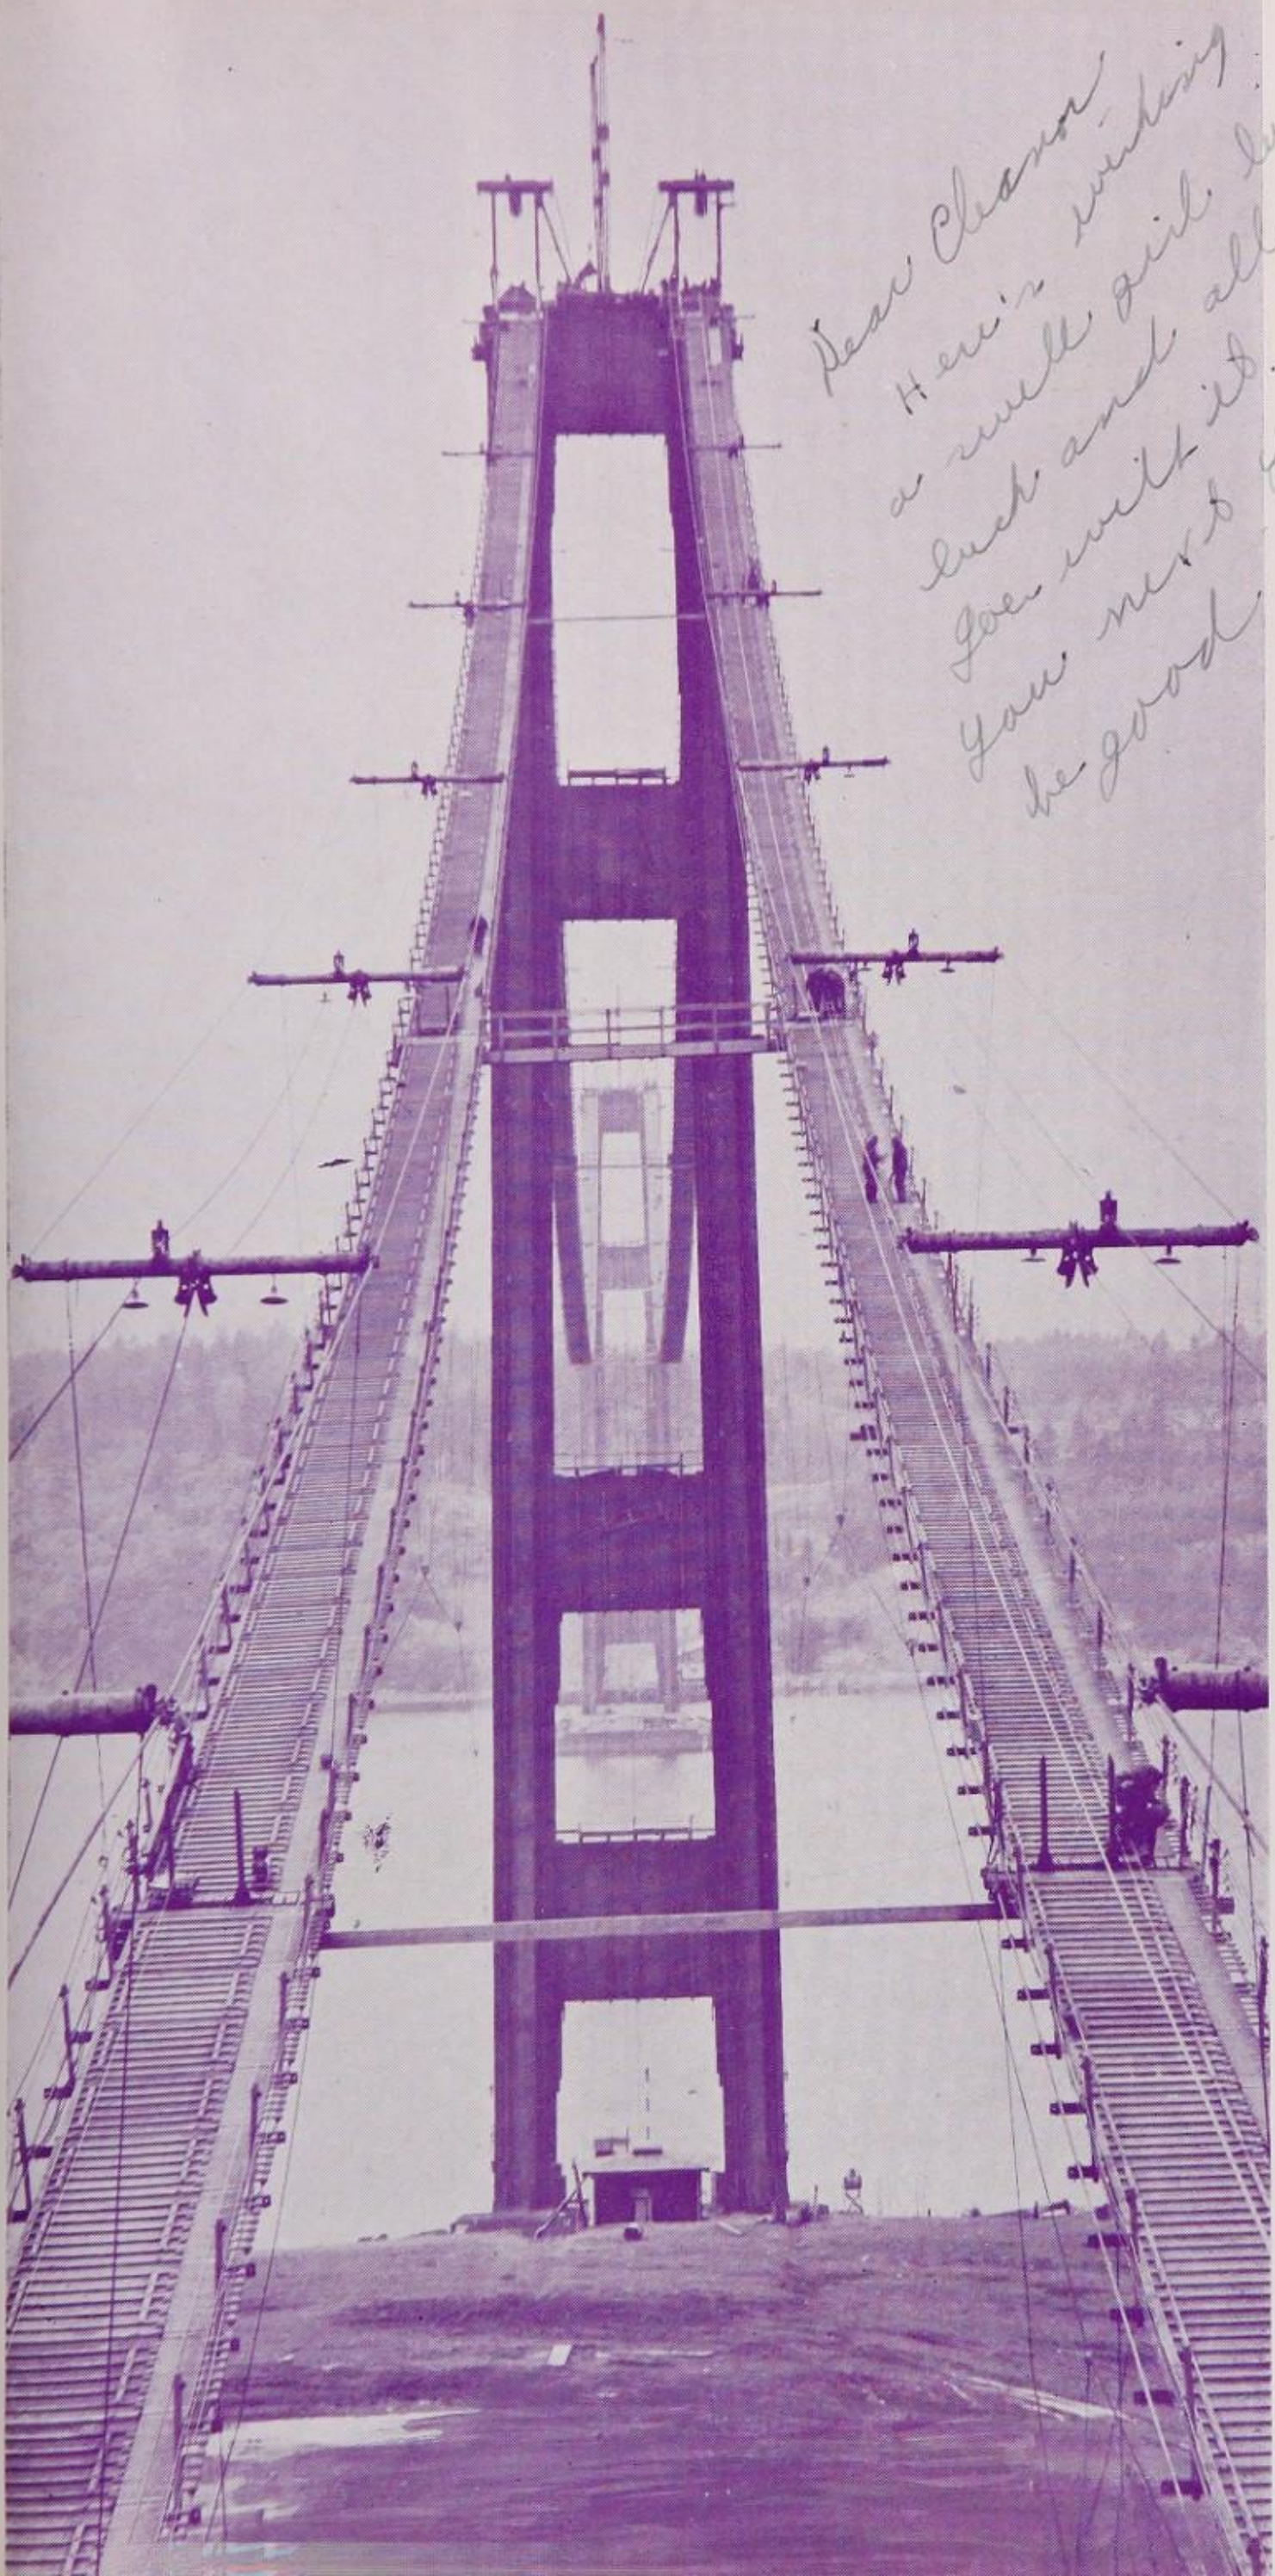
ANOTHER milestone in the long road of successful Senior Class plays was laid by the Class of '40, with the presentation of "She Stoops to Conquer," in the auditorium on the evenings of May 17-18.

Equally excellent work was performed in double leads and cast by Shirley Nyman and Barbara Phillips as the pretty heroine, Kate Hardcastle, while Gale Smith and Jerome Stickney did a splendid job in their characterizations of the shy gentleman from London, Charles Marlow.

Focusing attention to the second leads, Bob Robertson as Marlow's friend, George Hastings; Virginia Garver and Jackie Lanham as Kate's friend, Constance Neville; Margaret Repetto and Bettijane Erickson as Mrs. Hardcastle, step-mother to Kate and aunt of Constance; Richard Weeks as Squire Castle; Gerald Meier as Sir Charles Marlow, father of the romantic lead; Joe Sullivan as Tony Lumpkin, an eccentric practical joker—all merited the numerous compliments on their fine acting ability.

The leading players in "She Stoops to Conquer," Barbara Phillips, Shirley Nyman, Jerome Stickney and Gale Smith.

The cast of "She Stoops to Conquer," presented on May 17 and 18.



Dear Eleanor
Here's wishing a merry, merry girl, lots luck and all that
Love with it.
You never

Publications

The record of the progress of the bridge is kept in picture form as is the record of the progress of the school in the publications of the school.

MARIAN WANGNILD

Fall World . . .

"EASY to Read and Worth Reading" . . . with this motto, The Stadium World again appeared as a five-column paper last fall.

At the head of a staff of some 26 aspiring journalists, Marian Wangnild, news editor last spring, held the combined positions of editor in chief and news editor.

Pat Russell, former associate editor, headed the copy desk and helped with the makeup as managing editor. Dick Meyer returned to edit the sports pages. Bob Rowan, Stan Morton, Ed Williams and Ruthi Crain made up the rest of this department.

Few changes were made in the general style . . . "Open Drawbridge" . . . "Castle Echoes" . . . "Sundial Shadows" . . . and "Club Calendar" appeared again. Noteworthy additions were "Lulu Potts' Diary," a popular feature, and silhouettes by Peggy Shaw to accompany Castle Portraits. Barbara Kohl was feature editor with Grenville Scott, Margaret Carlock, Bettie Browne and "Bill of Fare" Gough as assistants. Harriet Cline was the editorial writer.

Held earlier this year, so that more stories could be printed, was the annual World short-story contest. Harriet Cline was editor. First place went to Jane Elder, for "Penny Steps Out;" second and third places to two staff members, Dot Herstine and Mary Elizabeth Morton.

Changing roles, Mabel Ramey took over the job of circulation manager, the fourth girl in this position. She was also a reporter on the editorial staff. Assistant circulation manager was Bill Gustafson. Filling Mabel's shoes as business manager was Wallace Stabbert, and Betty Jean Perry managed the advertising department and also worked as a cub.

BETTY JEAN PERRY

Spring World . . .

AGAIN under the guiding hand of a girl . . . the fifteenth in its history . . . The World was issued through an eventful spring. Chosen as the best from several candidates, Betty Jean Perry, a junior, served as editor.

Capable editorial assistants were Mel Novikoff, news editor; Barbara Kohl, copy editor; Beverly Berlie, feature editor, and Jane Ness, editorial writer.

"The Bengal Glancer" . . . Sports Editor Maury NaKane, aided by Bob Langlow and Fontelle Gaddis, added several new features to the two sports pages. A score-guessing contest, with prizes donated by Klopfensteins, was held during the basketball season. A "Sportsman of the Week" was chosen for several weeks and awarded a prize of two theater tickets.

Wallace Stabbert continued as business manager, thus earning a journalism emblem. Bill Gustafson headed the circulation department, with Don Westlin as assistant circulation manager.

Peggy Shaw continued displaying her talent as staff artist, making the weekly silhouettes and other linoleum cuts. "Lulu Potts" still came from the typewriter of Margaret Carlock. Norma "The Pest" Hayes '38, returned to write "Jester's Bells."

Earning journalism emblems were: Peggy Shaw, Rhoda Sussman, Sally Middleton, Jane Ness, Beverly Berlie, Mel Novikoff and Wallace Stabbert.

Sally Middleton, who made a splendid record as an ad chaser, managed the advertising department.

Following the example set by the preceding staff, who visited Queen Anne and Garfield in Seattle to study their newspapers, six members of the spring staff visited the offices of The Olympus, the paper of Olympia High School.

PAT RUSSELL

Tahoma . . .

DEDICATED to the memory of our late principal, Mr. Perkins, and with the Narrows Bridge as its theme, this year's Tahoma was edited by Pat Russell, capable and efficient from three semesters' experience on the World staff.

A padded cover in purple and silver and title pages printed in purple ink carried out the 1940 class colors. Notable changes were made in the sports pictures for the major varsity sports. Individual pictures were used, mounted on a neutral background, and covering a whole page.

The Tahoma snapshot contest was divided into three parts: pictures of students at school; pictures of students away from school, and baby pictures. A large number was turned in for each division. Prizes of two theater tickets were awarded to the winners of the division, and a grand prize of an 8x10 enlargement of any negative, was donated by Eastman Kodak Company for the grand prize winner.

Bob Hayward and Ruthi Crain helped cover sports; Bill Gough and Virginia Garver, senior writeups; Mary Elizabeth Morton, classes; Gerald Meier, honors; Beverly Berlie, music and drama; Harriet Cline, Paul Raymond, Mary Frlan and Ruby Lee Winther, clubs; Jean Sanders and Helen Clark, art assistants.

Staff photographers Fred Marinacci and Gene Nelson took pictures of all school events, and Richard Moyer of all groups. Anderson Printing Company and Washington Engraving Company were given the printing and engraving contracts. The cover was obtained from the Kingscraft Cover Company.

The staff included Marian Wangnild, assistant editor; Stan Morton, sports editor; Peggy Shaw, art editor; Mabel Ramey, business manager, and Bill Gustafson, circulation manager.

Advisers . . .

SOUND business judgment and a sense of humor aptly characterizes Mr. Giltner, the efficient adviser of The Tahoma and financial adviser of The World. For the past 16 years he has successfully managed to present a first class annual at a low cost.

Author, counsellor, and adviser, Mr. Hoffman has finished his eighteenth year as the "permanent World staff member." Since 1922, he has been on hand directing successive staffs to put out a high quality paper 30 weeks each school year. He is at present working on a revised edition of his journalism textbook, "See, Know and Tell —Well."

Torch . . .

UNDER its smart gold and blue cover, the 1939 Torch was issued for the fifth year since its revision from the old "S" Book.

Including many helpful hints and school information such as lists of teachers and rooms, clubs and meeting dates, football schedules, pictures of athletic letters, yells and pep songs, the Torch is sold each fall for ten cents.

Editor this year was Mel Novikoff; Wallace Stabbert, business manager; Mabel Ramey, circulation manager, and Emmajean Everett, advertising manager. Members of the fall World staff acted as reporters and special writers.

Mr. Giltner, Mr. Hoffman.

Athletics

Bodily action, coordination, and cooperation, whether done in sight of cables and steel towers, or in a muddy field or crowded gym, are an integral and a vital part of building.

COACH HEINRICK

Varsity Football . . .

FOR THE first time in three years the Cross-State League trophy went to another school than Stadium—Everett. The Bengals did, however, crush all local opposition to retain their city crown for the sixth consecutive year while compiling a season's total of 163 points to their opponents' 62.

Although not as successful as the great teams of the last two years, the '39 Tigers will be long remembered for two things; the courage which they showed in facing the first defeat suffered by a Blue and Gold team in 23 games and the fire and spirit with which they came back to finish the season in championship form.

With but six lettermen in the starting lineup, Coach Heinrick sent his team against Lincoln in an opening non-league charity contest and triumphed 13 to 6. Unleashing touchdown drives in every quarter, the Bengals functioned at maximum efficiency to crush Bremerton on the following week-end, 32-6.

Aerial maneuvers played a major part in the Tigers' next contest as the boys rode to a 12-7 victory over Walla Walla on the wings of Bill Gustafson's 45-yard pass interception run.

The Everett Seagulls proved Stadium's Waterloo one week later as a valiant crew of players and a gallant string of victories went down to defeat on boggy Bagshaw field, 13 to 6.

Yakima's Pirates came to town to play a downcast Stadium team which tired in the fourth quarter and lost 6-18.

Snapping out of the doldrums of defeat, the Stadiumites struck lightning swift in every period of the game to submerge Bellarmine under a five-touchdown barrage. The Lions failed to penetrate inside the Tigers' 25-yard line.

Playing on another sea of mud and without the services of co-captain Wes Hudson, who was injured in practice, the Castlites let down long enough in the second period for Bellingham to push over one score which proved to be the Raiders' winning margin. It was the first time in three years that Stadium had failed to score a touchdown.

Stung by this last defeat, the Tigers leaped upon Wenatchee and scattered the Apple Knockers from one end of the bowl to the other. When the smoke from siege guns Klarich, Murphy and Martindale cleared away, the Bengals had rolled up 40 points to Wenatchee's zero.

In that game of games, the Thanksgiving day battle with Lincoln, the real spirit of the Tigers came to the fore. Working as a well-oiled unit, the Bengals crossed the Abe's goal line three times and scored one safety to win 21 to 6. In the first quarter Stadium's brilliant guard and co-captain, Rod Giske, knifed through the Lynx secondary and nailed the Abe ball carrier behind his goal line for the safety which started the Bengal offense moving. The superb punting of Jerry Wilhelmsen was another important factor in the victory.

At the end of the season Rod Giske and Marion Klarich were given first-string berths on the all Cross-State eleven. Giske was also voted the '39 inspirational award and Leigh Moody and Dick Petersen were chosen co-captains of next year's team.

Reserve Football . . .

WINNING three out of four games, the strong reserves again took the city title. Their first game with Lincoln being cancelled, the Tigers defeated the Lynx in a special game played with only those men who will return next year. They beat Roy 6 to 0, Bellarmine 7 to 0, and lost to Olympia 28-0.

Sophomore Football . . .

REPLACING the Jayves as the fourth football team at Stadium the Sophomore reserves made an auspicious debut by winning three and losing the same number of games. Although only two games were played with Lincoln, coach Christie's charges were rated over the Lynx by virtue of a larger margin of victory. Scores were: Stadium 13, Puyallup 15; Stadium 7, Bellarmine 6; Stadium 13, Lincoln 0; Stadium 0, Lincoln 6; Stadium 33, Puyallup 0; Stadium 0, Stadium midgets 10.

Midget Football . . .

COACH Lowman's 135-pounders lost the city title to Lincoln after a slow start which saw the mites lose four games in a row but come back strong to finish the season with as many victories and one tie encounter. Season scores were: Stadium 0, Puyallup 7; Stadium 0, Lincoln 7; Stadium 0, Bellarmine 6; Stadium 0, Lincoln 20; Stadium 6, Sumner 0; Stadium 26, Clover Park 7; Stadium 6, Lincoln 6; Stadium 10, Stadium sophomores 0; Stadium 7, Enumclaw 0.

At the end of the season Bommie Van De Mark and Don Hagen were elected honorary co-captains and Bud Donaldson was voted the inspirational award.

Wrestling . . .

AFTER wearing the Cammarano Brothers' city wrestling crown for one year, the varsity grapplers again relinquished it to Lincoln's strong state champions.

In the first match with the Abes, the Bengals were downed 24 to 3. The second and final encounter also went to the Railsplitters. Besides two loses with Lincoln, other matches during the year resulted in wins over the U. S. Idaho, Kapowsin and Fife, and losses to Longview, Fife and the U. of W. Frosh.

Highlight of the season was the state meet in which Fred Adams and Gene Pape wrestled their way through the finals to championships in their respective divisions. The Tigers were third in the annual tourney.

Pape and Vert Rogers were chosen to coach next year's squad.

COACH LOWMAN

Varsity Basketball . . .

CLIMAXING the most sensational City League race in years, Stadium represented Tacoma at the state meet for the eleventh consecutive year, and at the same time, won their twelfth city title. Compiling a record of 17 wins against 12 losses, the Tigers placed sixth at the Tournament and stood fourth in the Cross-State competition.

After losing their first three starts in city play, the Bengals staged a courageous uphill fight, winning the next four in a row, before losing to Bellarmine in two delirious overtime periods.

With each team tied with four wins and four defeats at the completion of the regular schedule, a playoff was necessitated. This began with the Bells defeating Lincoln in a "hair-raiser," 25 to 24. Stadium then won the berth at the state get-together, showing a smooth-working offense, by defeating the Lions 31 to 20.

Matched against Yakima in the first round at the tournament, the Bengals led all the way only to have the Pirates come from behind and tie the game at 35-all in the last few seconds. Twenty seconds after the overtime period had started, Neal Lindstrom dropped a basket to give victory to Stadium.

Still playing smooth ball, the Blue and Gold upset a favored Cle Elum team, 41 to 30, to reach the semi-finals. Meeting Everett in their fourth game in as many nights, the Tigers played magnificent ball for the first quarter, only to go down to defeat at the hands of the State Champions, 42 to 22. A very tired team, they lost to Hoquiam, the next night, 33-31, to gain sixth place in the tourney. Outstanding were Wes Hudson who was given a place on the second All-State team and George Warter, Fred Angus and John Klarich, who received honorable mention.

The Stadiumites did not make as creditable a showing in Cross-State competition this season in comparison to that of last year. Everett again proved to be the kingpin, twice defeating Stadium by scores of 38 to 13 and 36-22.

The Walla Walla Blue Devils twice went down to defeat at the hands of the then on-coming Bengals as did the Wildcats from Bremerton. Two reverses were suffered at the hands of the Bellingham Red Raiders. The series with Yakima, who dropped out of Cross- State competition this year, was divided, the Tigers winning at home, 45 to 35, and being drubbed at the Pirate's lair, 51 to 34.

Although this season was not Stadium's best by any means, it was characterized by very close play in every game. In the way of individual accomplishments, George Warter, senior and two-year letterman, captured first place in the Cross-State race for scoring. Elected as captain was Wes Hudson. Bob Turner received the inspirational award.

Reserve and Sophomore Basketball . . .

COMPOSED in reality of two teams, the Sophomore and Varsity Reserves, the Bengal seconds won the city title for the third consecutive year, while winning a season total of 13 games and losing only 7.

In addition to the regular schedule of Cross-State and City League games, were games with Sumner, Stadium midgets, Harvey's All-Stars, and various other practice tilts which were played by sophomores only. The only setback suffered in city play was a 22 to 12 defeat administered by the Lincoln first-year men to the Sophs.

Midget Basketball . . .

WITH a nucleus of eight returning lettermen, Coach Heinrick's midget basketeers won the city championship for the twelfth consecutive year. Breezing through their City League schedule without a defeat, the Tiger babes compiled a record of 19 wins against 3 losses.

Although three of the early-season practice games ended in defeats for the midgets, these games proved to be the real "thrillers" of the season. A highly touted Orting varsity eked out a close two-point win, 30 to 28, and the College of Puget Sound frosh found themselves hard pressed to win 27-25. The only other setback was suffered at the hands of the alumni. Games with the Japanese Crusaders, sophomores, alumni and a return tilt with Orting ended with the "wee-ones" in the win column. Each team was played at least twice.

Elected as co-captains at the start of the year were seniors Don Brown and Floyd Swanson, who completed three years of successful play this season. Bill Gregory, junior and two-year letterman, received the inspirational award.

Golf . . .

WITH an average of two wins and three losses, the golf team was well into its season when the Tahoma went to press.

The Stadium divot-diggers lost their first effort in the city golf series, the Lincoln team out stroking them, 11½ to 6½. The successful starts were made against Pacific Lutheran College and Olympia. On the debit side of the column were losses to Everett and Bremerton.

The team was led this year by Captain Bommie Van De Mark and Mr. Swarm, newly-appointed coach.

Tennis . . .

WITH a nucleus of five lettermen, the Bengals were well on their way to a successful season when The Tahoma went to press. Aberdeen's Bobcats were scheduled to provide the first opposition for the boys this year but failed to put in an appearance. In the next two matches the Tigers blanked Bremerton and Everett by scores of 7 to 0 each time. Other teams on the netters' schedule included Lincoln, Everett, Bremerton and the U. of W. Frosh. Due to their fine showing the team was again favored to cop the city title.

This year's captain was Richie Cromwell.

Baseball . . .

WITH a team composed of 18 returning lettermen and a crop of promising sophomores, Stadium, along with Everett was rated as the team to win in Cross-State play. With a mid-season average of nine wins and one loss, the Stadium nine seemed to be living up to expectations.

By far the best games of the season were those against Everett, the Tigers winning the first 4 to 3, with the Seagulls taking the second by a five run margin, 7 to 2. The first game proved to be a real thriller, highlighted by a pitching duel between Bill Demarest, dependable Bengal chucker, and Olsen, ace flinger from the town of champions. With the score tied at 3-all in the last half of the seventh, Vince Genna, shortstop, singled with two men on, bringing in the winning tally.

The second game did not prove as successful although the Tigers played heads-up baseball.

Second only to the series with Everett was the one-hit pitching effort of Lymie Anderson, who held a hard-hitting Eatonville team to no runs and one hit in seven innings, while his mates put the game on ice with five runs.

Anderson just missed a hall of fame performance by a shade, having retired the first two men to face him in the seventh inning, only to have the next man tap out a single, which proved to be the only blemish on his near-perfect record. The Stadiumites swept the Eatonville series also, taking the nightcap of the double-header by the score of 5 to 2.

Other victories were registered against Sumner, 10 to 1 and 10 to 0; Clover Park 8 to 0; Bellarmine 6 to 1; and Seattle Prep, 5 ot 4 and 7 to 6. The rest of the city series had yet to be completed but prospects for a repeat of last year's city championship performance looked very bright.

As a new feature this season, the Cross-State League has been divided into two divsions, the east, composed of Yakima and Walla Walla, and the west, made up of Stadium, Lincoln, Everett, Bremerton, and Bellingham. In a playoff to be held either at Yakima or Walla Walla, the winner of the western division will be pitted against the champion of the eastern district for the Cross-State League championship. Up until the time of the printing of The Tahoma, Stadium, Everett and Bellingham were tied in the west, each having lost only one game.

Co-captains for the year were John Batt, catcher, and Ray Montbroussous, pitcher, two- and three-year lettermen respectively.

COACH KEYES

Swimming . . .

SPLASHING their way to a tie with Lincoln for the western Washington conference title, Stadium swimmers placed second at the state meet for the third consecutive year, the crown being won this year by their cross-town rivals—the Abes. The Tiger mermen totaled 9 wins for the season, losing only 4.

Opening the season with an impressive 43-23 win over Vancouver, the Bengals set a new conference record in the 150-yard medley relay, eclipsing the record set by Aberdeen last year by nine-tenths of a second. They continued to ride the crest of the waves for the next two meets, edging out Lincoln, 34 to 32, while the Seagulls from Everett went down to defeat, 38 to 28. With three tough ones in the win column, the Blue and Gold splashers seemed well on their way to a conference title, only to be stopped momentarily by a determined Longview team, the Lumberjacks winning by the narrow margin of two points, 34 to 32.

The Stadium swimmers garnered 34 points at the state meet, 12 less than Lincoln, to capture second place.

The Stadiumites again shifted into high gear, sinking Aberdeen twice, 42 to 24 there, and winning 40-26 at home. A return swim with Everett was next, Stadium swamping the Seagulls 54 to 12. With three more barriers surpassed, the Tigers were suddenly crushed by a much improved Lincoln team, losing 42 to 24. After this second defeat, the Bengals trimmed Vancouver and Longview in turn, completing their conference schedule with 8 wins and 2 losses, to gain a first place tie with the Railsplitters.

Ed Hoppen, 50-yard free style and relay swimmer, served as this year's team captain.

WITH only eight lettermen on the squad, Coach Christie's tracksters were given a fighting chance to win the city meet and again defeat Lincoln.

Depending heavily on the field events the Stadions took Centralia, winning 71-51.

The tenth annual running of the Centralia Relays was held on the following week-end and Stadium romped home in second place with 20 5/6 points behind Vancouver's strong Trappers and in front of a field of 26 schools. The junior 440-yard relay team garnered the only first place for the Bengals during the day. Members of the team were Hank Clinton, Dick Clinton, Gerald Bell and George Soper.

The Cross-State relays afforded the Bengals stiff competition. Again winning only one first place, the Stadiumites took fifth with 19 2/3 points. The first taken was by the shuttle hurdle relay team composed of Captain Stan Morton, Jack Vandenberg, Chuck Reeves and Bart Wood.

Traveling to Olympia Stadium defeated the Capital city boys and Aberdeen in a triangular meet. The score was: Stadium 60¾, Aberdeen 57 and Olympia 30¼. Jerry Wilhelmsen captured three first places in the field events to lead Blue and Gold individual scorers.

At publication time the remaining meets on the Bengals' schedule were the Penn Relays with Lincoln, the annual sophomore tussle with Lincoln, the city meet and the state get-to-gether. Lincoln was given the edge in the Penn Relays while Stadium's strong sophomores were expected to down the Lynx yearlings.

Girl Student Leaders . . .

FIRST organized as a club two years ago, the girl student leaders aid the gym instructors, Miss McCulloch and Miss Bernard. For thirty hours of work, a girl receives a felt emblem; for sixty hours, a chenille one is awarded.

A sports dance, "Spring Sports Swing," was sponsored by both the boys' and girls' club with the two presidents as co-chairmen.

Officers are: President, Ruthi Crain; secretary-treasurer, Jean Button.

Boy Student Leaders . . .

ASSISTING in the gym and pool are the duties of the boy student leaders, who organized as a club three years ago with Mr. Keyes, gym instructor, as adviser.

Officers are: President, Bliss Croft; vice president, Henry Brown; secretary-treasurer, Chester Dyer.

Hike Leaders . . .

STADIUM girls like to hike, that's why every year at least twelve jaunts are held, usually on Saturday mornings. Rain or shine, the hikers set forth for such destinations as the Narrows, Dash Point, Point Defiance and Fircrest.

Two senior members of Stadiana are chosen by the president and the gym instructors to lead each hike.

Pin Winners . . .

REPLACING a blue shield which was given as the third year athletic award in former years, a gold Stadiana pin was used for the first time last year. Two other winners, Mary McDonald and Ruthie Taylor, were absent when the picture was taken.

Managers . . .

UNDER the able guidance of Mr. Arpke, the boys take care of equipment, act as water boys, mark the field and do all sorts of odd jobs for the coaches.

The girls help Miss Bernard and Miss McCulloch conduct after school turnout.

Coaches . . .

EFFICIENCY is the keynote of Stadium coaches' activities. Besides ably leading the varsity football team, Mr. Heinrick led the midget hoopmen and coached the baseball team. Mr. Lowman led the varsity casaba squad.

The track squad was headed by Mr. Christie and Mr. Swarm took over the leadership of the golf team. Miss McCulloch and Miss Bernard took charge of directing girls' sports. Besides being head of the tennis and swimming teams, Mr. Keyes kept the boys' gym running smoothly. Mr. Giltner took over the management of the rifle team and Mr. Arpke continued in charge of the equipment room.

ROW 1: Mr. Morris, Mr. Lowman, Miss Bernard, Miss McCulloch, Mr. Christie. ROW 2: Mr. Swarm, Mr. Heinrick, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Keyes.

Basketball . . .

KNOWN as the favorite game on the girls' sports calendar, this tournament attracted over 300 girls.

In the final game, the senior team, the Seagulls, captained by Bette Siegle, trounced the sophomore team, led by Pat Ofstad, 32-19.

Manager for this sport was Pat Cook with Bettie Hart, Marjorie Jack, Shirley Blades and Margaret J. Hill, assistants.

ROW 1: Helen Kutcher, Ethel Gunnette, Bette Siegle, Doris Nelson, Dorothy Sarrazen. ROW 2: Evelyn Herrmann, Lois Schmidt, Anita Kinberg, Mary Jo Reid, Mary Frlan, Jean Wheeler.

Baseball . . .

BATTER UP! Each spring the baseball tournament draws a large number of girls.

Displaying a strong team, Betty Knowles led her junior team to victory last year.

Manager this year was Betty Knowles and had as her assistants, Ruth Albertson, Vilma Vidos, Pat Towne and Marian Ricono.

ROW 1: Myrtle Jorgenson, Marian Ricono, Kazu Sumiyoshi, Betty Knowles, Maurine Jones, Jane Welch. ROW 2: Charl Knapp, Irene Hopkins, Eleanor Baker, Dots Clifford, Alice Loudin.

Speedball . . .

WINNING the championship for the second consecutive year, the Goal-Diggers, captained by Evelyn Anderson, lived up to their name throughout this year's tourney. In 1938 the same team captained by Noreen Johnson won.

In the championship game, the senior team defeated the Junior Flashes, captained by Shirley Blades, 29-11.

Noreen Johnson was manager and Betty Warter, Louise Nichols and Louise Olson were her assistants.

Volleyball . . .

UPSETTING the seniors this year, a junior team captained by Vilma Vidos marched to victory in the volleyball tournament. In the past years the seniors have generally won the title and have shown themselves to be the "flashes" in the game.

Margie Englebrecht was manager of the sport and was assisted by Jackie Moore, Jean Button, Betty Nelson and Doris Nordeen.

ROW 1: Priscilla Newschwander, Ruth Michael, Vilma Vidos, Margaret Morton, Jessie Hinton. ROW 2: Mable Cook, Nina Brinkerhoff, Shirley Danforth, Sachi Munekata, Michiko Jinguji, Kinuye Tanaka.

Badminton . . .

RAPIDLY gaining in popularity is the badminton tournament, first introduced three years ago. Winning the championship when a sophomore and again this year as a senior, Ruthi Crain has established herself as "queen of the courts."

Other outstanding players were Betty Warter, runner-up this year; Marjorie Jack and Juliette Schwalen, who were eliminated in the semi-finals.

Marjorie Jack, Ruthi Crain, Bettie Warter.

Girls' Tennis . . .

AS THIS YEAR'S play-off's were not completed by the time The Tahoma went to press, last year's outstanding players are pictured here.

Two graduating seniors captured top honors last year in the tourney when Vivienne Joseph won the championship for the the second consecutive year, defeating Janet Davis in the finals.

Returning this year are the other semi-finalists, Sabine Phelps and Jean Sanders, who won the doubles title.

Jean Sanders, Sabine Phelps, Kathryn Newschwander, Ann Corbett.

Girls Swimming . . .

THIS YEAR marked the inauguration of a new method of earning a point in swimming besides that of being on a class team. A system was devised by Miss Bernard, coach, whereby a girl would receive her letter credit after successfully passing certain requirements. Turnouts were held every Tuesday during sixth period and after school the year round.

Highlighting the season was the swimming meet held in April in which the seniors were victorious, with the juniors, second, and sophomores third.

Manager this year was Evelyn Anderson, and Harriet MacMahon, Joyce Smith, Shirley Blades and Norma Olsen were her assistants.

Twenty-four Outstanding Basketball Players . . .

AS A CLIMAX to the girls' basketball season, 24 girls were named as outstanding players for the ability that they displayed on the court. The idea for the honor team was introduced two years ago by Miss Bernard, gym instructor, as an incentive for all girls turning out to play their best.

The girls were chosen on the basis of their speed, teamwork, technique and accuracy, which they showed in their playing.
